Actress Found Near Death

BULLETIN

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Academy Award - winning actress Jennifer Jones regained consciousness today and was reported "doing fine," six hours after she was found "near death" in the Pacific surf by sheriff's deputies.

The shy, beautiful actress found unconscious and not breathing, may have fallen about 100 feet, said Los Angeles County sheriff's deputies.

A deputy restored her breathing after performing mouth-to-mouth resuscitation for two or three minutes.

The deputies found her footprints winding down a 1,000-foot-long path to the surf and said they ended about 100 feet from where she was found.

Her stomach was pumped at the Malibu Hospital before she was taken to Mt. Sinai. A sheriff's spokesman said Miss Jones, widow of producer David O. Selznick, reportedly had called her personal physician and said she was about to take some pills.

Miss Jones won an Academy Award for her performance in her first film, "Song of Bernadette." She was found just hours after the death of her costar in that film, Charles Bickford. Bickford died at UCLA Medical Center of emphysema.

Miss Jones, 48, born Phylis Isley in Tulsa, Okla., married the late actor Robert Walker in 1939. The couple had two sons. She was divorced from Walker in 1945 and in 1949 married Selznick. They had one daughter.

In 1955, Miss Jones was voted by some 15 million movie goers as the best actress of the year for her performance in "Love is a Many Splendored Thing." The Oscar for the best performance by an actress that year, however, was awarded to Anna Magnani for her role in "The Rose Tattoo."

'Long Shot' Worked Like Dream

Moon More Accessible After Saturn's Success

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — America looked at a more accessible moon today with the nation's space prospects strengthened and brightened by Thursday's triumphant proving flight of the super-rocket, Saturn 5.

Running low on time, money and public confidence, the space agency stacked moon-flight machinery atop an untested rocket and sent it up.

The long shot worked like a dream, evaporating gloom haunting the space program since three astronauts burned to death in their craft at Cape Kennedy on Jan. 27.

President Johnson and Vice president Humphrey sent congratulations, the President saying the flight showed America capable of sending astronauts to the moon and bringing them home safely.

Space officials hastened to say the moon is several flights away, but Dr. Robert C. Seamans, associate administrator of NASA, called the success "clear indication that our team is not found wanting."

Thursday night, the television scout Surveyor 6 dropped gently to a spot in the middle of the moon's visible face and began sending the space agency snapshots of Sinus Medii, the cratered plain which is the last of four potential astronaut landing sites to be checked out.

Seamans said it proved "we do have the capability in this country to be pre-eminent not only in space, but in all technology."

Dr. Wernher Von Braun, who coddled the Saturn 5 from idea to steel in seven years of work, said, "It was undoubtedly the greatest moment of my life."

His "bird," the biggest thing ever to fly, climbed to 117-miles orbit with a world record satellite of 140 tons. From there, an Apollo spacecraft went out a lonely 11,386 miles and sizzled home into a rainy Pacific in a tough test of its heat shield.

From dream countdown to on-the-button liftoff to splashdown only 10 miles off target, it took just eight hours and 37 minutes to prove the United States owner.

Some Showers Due During The Weekend

Some showers could mar the weekend, according to the weatherman.

The forecast calls for mostly cloudy and mild tonight and Saturday, with occasional light rain. Tonight's low will range between 45 and 51.

Above - normal temperatures, with little day - to - day change, are expected Saturday through Wednesday. The high's should average in the 50s and low 60s and the lows in the the 30s and low 40s.

More showers are due about the middle of next week.

Commissioners Take Over

Courthouse Fight Flares Over County Clerk Jobs

LISBON — Administration of the three Columbiana County Courts is about to change hands over the issue of appointing personnel.

Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey, who has supervised the three courts since they were established in 1959, says county commissioners James Boyd and Charles Gause told him Thursday afternoon they will take over the courts effective Dec. 1.

Boyd said he and Gause want to appoint a clerk in each court — Southwest at Lisbon, Northwest at Salem and Eastern at East Palestine — to handle the new small bills collection recently set up by statute.

He said the commissioners do not want to disturb the present personnel, but have decided to appoint the three clerks needed for the small bills duties.

Stacey, a Democrat, reported the commissioners said nothing about appointing clerks for the new duties. "I asked them whether I was going to be Clerk of the Courts or if they were, and they said they were going to take them over," Stacey said.

Stacey told Boyd and Gause, both Republicans, he wants a written statement of their in-

U.S. Forces Battle Reds In Two Savage Clashes

U.S., Soviet Clash In UN Over Israel

Eban Angered As Red Lowered Him On Speakers' List

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Egypt had a clear field against Israel in the U.N. Security Council Thursday night as the Israelis refused to debate because a Soviet maneuver had placed them far down on the speaker's list.

The United States rallied to Israel's cause but became embroiled with the Soviet Union, first in a procedural clash and then in debate on the Middle East deadlock.

A U.S. effort to let Israel speak directly after Egypt was defeated in a narrow vote that may have been an indication of future balloting on resolutions before the 15-nation council.

Incensed at being relegated to seventh place, Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban issued a statement to newsmen that he "declined the offer to address the Security Council at midnight in conditions prejudicial to Israel's position." He will speak when the debate resumes Monday morning.

An Israeli spokesman said: "The council by its action, has manifested onesidedness adversely affecting the objective and impartial consideration of a matter of grave importance."

The council is considering two rival resolutions.

One by India, Mali and Nigeria calls for Israeli withdrawal from all Arab territories and an end to Arab belligerence against Israel. Israel rejected the draft when it was first circulated before the session.

The other draft, by the United States, calls for "withdrawal of armed forces from occupied territories," without naming Israel.

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmound Riad opened the long session which lasted until 1:14 a.m.—with a lengthy blast against Israel. He accused the Jewish nation of waging a "piecemeal war" and called on the council for enforcement measures if Israeli troops don't withdraw from occupied Arab soil.

"We urge," Riad declared, "that military, political and economic assistance to Israel be withheld until Israel withdraws its aggressive forces from all the territories it has occupied as a result of its aggression."

Gosney To Run Again For Democratic Post

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana filed today with the County Election Board to seek a sixth term as 18th Congressional District member of the Democratic State Central Committee in the primaries in May 1968.

Gosney first assumed the post about 10 years ago, filling out the unexpired term of the late Earl Applegate of Steubenville. He first was elected to a full term in 1958 and has been returned each two years since.

The party officials are elected at the primaries while Democrats and Republicans are choosing nominees to run against each other in the November general election. The district covers Columbiana, Jefferson, Belmont, Tuscarawas, Harrison, Monroe and Noble Counties.

Bigger, More Efficient Secret Service Faces Test

By HARRY KELLY
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four years after Dallas, a bigger Secret Service with a more efficient look faces the challenge of protecting a President campaigning in an atmosphere of war and protest demonstrations.

But several politicians questioned about the subject say they don't foresee that security problems will restrict President Johnson's -or his opponent's-ability to campaign in the usual open, hand-shaking style in 1968, assuming Johnson seeks re-election.

A veteran Congress member familiar with problems of security as well as of politicking, summed it up this way:

"Presidents and presidential candidates are politicians, and politicians want to rub elbows with the masses, and no one will be able to stop them, even if the Secret Service would like to."

Johnson's Veterans Day tour this weekend will be his first jet swing around the country since the 1966 congressional election. The schedule limits him to the relative security of military bases.

Some observers believe the fairly limited domestic travel by a President who has in the past zest fully mixed with crowds reflects security concerns over Vietnam demonstrations, as well as the pressure of state business.

For example, during a short visit to New York City Thursday night, antiwar demonstrators shouted out as his motorcade passed them: "Johnson, murderer! Johnson, murderer!" There was heavy security both at the airport and the Americana Hotel, where he spoke.

If the service is concerned about possible security pitfalls on the 1968 campaign trail, it doesn't do its worrying in public. But while it officially shrugs off such problems as part of the job, it is acutely aware of the hazards.

And it is better manned and equipped than it was Nov. 22, 1963 when President John F. Kennedy was killed by a sniper as he rode in an open limousine in a Dallas motorcade.

It has 575 special agents compared with 350 in 1963. To get a bird's-eye view of rooftops and building windows, it makes use of helicopters. The presidential limousine is bullet-proof.

The service now has formal liaison with the FBI, the CIA and other security and law enforcement agencies, creating a routine channel for a vastly increased flow of intelligence.

And it is making more use of scientific developments. It has installed a computer.

Veterans Day Weekend

Johnson Launches Tour Of Armed Forces Sites

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — President Johnson flew to this sprawling "home of the infantry" today and told Army men that the nation's hopes and dreams depend on bringing unity to the Vietnam battleground "where our beliefs and future are at test."

The Georgia stop was Johnson's first in a two-day tour to greet men of all the armed forces both ashore and afloat, on this Veterans Day weekend.

In remarks prepared for Army men and their families at Doughboy Stadium, Johnson emphasized the unity-in-war theme.

Peace in Vietnam, he said, 'will come more quickly when the enemy of freedom finds no crack in our courage—and no split in our resolve—and no encouragement to prolong this war in the shortness of our patience or the sharpness of our tongues."

Johnson, who has been displaying a new fighting stance in an effort to confound pollsters and woo voters, was here to watch paratrooper and ranger training in Georgia, decorated Vietnam veterans and talked to troops and their kin.

The commander-in-chief stressed the fact that more than 1,200 families of men stationed in Vietnam live in the immediate area.

Johnson concluded by saying that "your bravery will be rewarded" and that one day Ft. Benning will celebrate the end of the war.

"God grant that we may share in the blessed day soon," he said.

The coast-to-coast tour was Johnson's first major barnstorming trip of 1967. Before nightfall today, he also will have greeted Vietnam combat pilots in California and observed operations aboard the nuclear-powered carrier Enterprise somewhere in the Pacific.

The two-day journey will take the commander-in-chief to bases of all the armed services—including the Coast Guard—in four states and on the high seas.

Johnson's fast-paced travels were keyed to the observance Saturday of Veterans Day.

The President got scant rest before taking off. Without advance White House announcement, he flew Thursday night to New York City to speak before some 1,000 patrons of a dinner sponsored by an arm of the Jewish Labor Committee. AFL-CIO President George Meany was the honored guest.

Johnson, long noted for his nonbelligerent "come let us reason together" phrases, tried out a new, fighting style—to the obvious delight of an audience that interrupted with such cries as, "Give 'em hell."

GOP To Fight Record Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans vow a floor fight against a proposed record boost in Social Security benefits they contend has a financing feature pegged to help Democrats in the 1968 elections.

The $3.6 billion measure to provide 15 per cent benefit hikes cleared the Senate Finance Committee on a party-line, 11-6 vote Thursday. Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., predicted quick approval for the measure when the Senate takes it up, probably next week.

The bill would boost benefits beginning next April—before November's presidential race—but wouldn't increase Social Security taxes until January 1969.

That financing schedule was called irresponsible and politically motivated by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on the Finance Committee. He predicted stiff GOP opposition aimed at reducing the hike in benefits to the 12½ per cent level already approved by the House.

Parts Of Death Car Play Important Role At Trial

By PAUL YOUNG
Review Staff Writer

LISBON — Parts of a 1966 Volkswagen in which an East Liverpool High School senior received fatal injuries last May 26 held the attention of jurors Thursday in the traffic manslaughter trial of Daryl Lee Jackson, 18, of 1068 Jennings Ave., East Liverpool.

The exhibits will be before the jury again Monday when the trial resumes at 9:30. Judge Joel H. Sharp dismissed the jury at 4 p.m. yesterday during the testimony of John F. McIntosh of Wellsville RD 1, a millwright and Volkswagen mechanic. A defense witness, he described the construction of the car and, with the aid of a manual, showed the jury how the steering mechanism works.

How these relate to the death of Jerry Canne, 17, formerly of 143 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool, is the case being presented by John Bauknecht of East Palestine, defense counsel.

Testimony early in the trial disclosed Jackson was in two accidents within an hour or so—first at a senior class party along Grimms Bridge Rd., then —the fatal crash—at a curve

Parking Ban Planned On Bradshaw Stretch

A parking ban will apply Saturday morning on a short stretch of Bradshaw Ave. near the area in which the Veterans Day parade will form, police cautioned motorists today.

The ban will cover the north side of Bradshaw Ave. between Walnut St. and Ravine St. The parade will form at the Loblaw Market lot at 9:30 and move at 10:30. It will follow the traditional route along Walnut, 5th, Jefferson and 6th Sts.

Sponsors said one group was omitted from the parade list yesterday. It is a military police unit of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve at Steubenville.

Skirmishes Fatal To 14 Americans

106 Others Suffer Wounds; 35 Enemy Troops Are Slain

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and Army infantrymen clashed with dug-in North Vietnamese troops in separate fierce battles within five miles of each other Thursday south of Da Nang.

The two battles, one a marathon of 26 hours along the coastal lowlands in the northernmost 1st Corps area, left 14 Americans dead and 106 wounded, U.S. headquarters reported. Thirty-five North Vietnamese were reported slain, many of them by massive bombardment from U.S. artillery, tactical fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships armed with rockets.

The U.S. Command also disclosed in its weekly summary of aircraft losses that three more American warplanes have been downed in combat over North Vietnam but were not announced at the time, bringing to 735 the total of U.S. combat planes officially reported lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

U.S. pilots flew a total of 153 missions against the North Thursday, their largest number in weeks, but the northeast monsoons blanketed the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland area. Most of the U.S. raids were against targets west and south of the North Vietnamese capital.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong sank a U.S. Navy river patrol boat with recoilless rifle fire 97 miles south of Saigon. One U.S. soldier was killed and three Navy men were wounded in the attack Thursday; one Viet Cong also was reported killed.

In the coastal lowlands fighting, U.S. Marines pushing through a cluster of heavily fortified North Vietnamese villages in a valley 27 miles south of Da Nang clashed fiercely for 26 hours with tough Communist forces entrenched in a hamlet. It was the second heavy battle for the Marines this week in Operation Essex.

Loss Placed At $44,500 In Beaver Blaze

The blaze, in the 500 block of 7th Ave., was discovered at 3:02 a. m. By the time firemen arrived, the flames had burned from the basement up a stairwell and broken through the roof.

The building houses a store on the ground floor and apartments on the upper stories. All occupants escaped.

Students 'All Wet'

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Fifty Oregon State University students are taking part in a shower marathon, aiming to break the 205-hour record held by University of Oregon students.

The marathon started Tuesday at 8 p.m. on the third floor of Wilson Hall, a men's dormitory. It will have to continue until next Thursday to break the record. One person must be in the shower at all times.

Johnson's fast-paced travels were keyed to the observance Saturday of Veterans Day.

The President got scant rest before taking off. Without advance White House announcement, he flew Thursday night to New York City to speak before some 1,000 patrons of a dinner sponsored by an arm of the Jewish Labor Committee. AFL-CIO President George Meany was the honored guest.

Johnson, long noted for his nonbelligerent "come let us reason together" phrases, tried out a new, fighting style—to the obvious delight of an audience that interrupted with such cries as, "Give 'em hell."

GOP To Fight Record Social Security Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans vow a floor fight against a proposed record boost in Social Security benefits they contend has a financing feature pegged to help Democrats in the 1968 elections.

The $3.6 billion measure to provide 15 per cent benefit hikes cleared the Senate Finance Committee on a party-line, 11-6 vote Thursday. Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., predicted quick approval for the measure when the Senate takes it up, probably next week.

The bill would boost benefits beginning next April—before November's presidential race—but wouldn't increase Social Security taxes until January 1969.

That financing schedule was called irresponsible and politically motivated by Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on the Finance Committee. He predicted stiff GOP opposition aimed at reducing the hike in benefits to the 12½ per cent level already approved by the House.

By PAUL YOUNG
Review Staff Writer

LISBON — Parts of a 1966 Volkswagen in which an East Liverpool High School senior received fatal injuries last May 26 held the attention of jurors Thursday in the traffic manslaughter trial of Daryl Lee Jackson, 18, of 1068 Jennings Ave., East Liverpool.

The exhibits will be before the jury again Monday when the trial resumes at 9:30. Judge Joel H. Sharp dismissed the jury at 4 p.m. yesterday during the testimony of John F. McIntosh of Wellsville RD 1, a millwright and Volkswagen mechanic. A defense witness, he described the construction of the car and, with the aid of a manual, showed the jury how the steering mechanism works.

How these relate to the death of Jerry Canne, 17, formerly of 143 Thompson Ave., East Liverpool, is the case being presented by John Bauknecht of East Palestine, defense counsel.

Testimony early in the trial disclosed Jackson was in two accidents within an hour or so—first at a senior class party along Grimms Bridge Rd., then —the fatal crash—at a curve

Parking Ban Planned On Bradshaw Stretch

A parking ban will apply Saturday morning on a short stretch of Bradshaw Ave. near the area in which the Veterans Day parade will form, police cautioned motorists today.

The ban will cover the north side of Bradshaw Ave. between Walnut St. and Ravine St. The parade will form at the Loblaw Market lot at 9:30 and move at 10:30. It will follow the traditional route along Walnut, 5th, Jefferson and 6th Sts.

Sponsors said one group was omitted from the parade list yesterday. It is a military police unit of the U. S. Marine Corps Reserve at Steubenville.

Skirmishes Fatal To 14 Americans

106 Others Suffer Wounds; 35 Enemy Troops Are Slain

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Marines and Army infantrymen clashed with dug-in North Vietnamese troops in separate fierce battles within five miles of each other Thursday south of Da Nang.

The two battles, one a marathon of 26 hours along the coastal lowlands in the northernmost 1st Corps area, left 14 Americans dead and 106 wounded, U.S. headquarters reported. Thirty-five North Vietnamese were reported slain, many of them by massive bombardment from U.S. artillery, tactical fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships armed with rockets.

The U.S. Command also disclosed in its weekly summary of aircraft losses that three more American warplanes have been downed in combat over North Vietnam but were not announced at the time, bringing to 735 the total of U.S. combat planes officially reported lost in the air war against North Vietnam.

U.S. pilots flew a total of 153 missions against the North Thursday, their largest number in weeks, but the northeast monsoons blanketed the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland area. Most of the U.S. raids were against targets west and south of the North Vietnamese capital.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong sank a U.S. Navy river patrol boat with recoilless rifle fire 97 miles south of Saigon. One U.S. soldier was killed and three Navy men were wounded in the attack Thursday; one Viet Cong also was reported killed.

In the coastal lowlands fighting, U.S. Marines pushing through a cluster of heavily fortified North Vietnamese villages in a valley 27 miles south of Da Nang clashed fiercely for 26 hours with tough Communist forces entrenched in a hamlet. It was the second heavy battle for the Marines this week in Operation Essex.

The blaze, in the 500 block of 7th Ave., was discovered at 3:02 a. m. By the time firemen arrived, the flames had burned from the basement up a stairwell and broken through the roof.

The building houses a store on the ground floor and apartments on the upper stories. All occupants escaped.

Students 'All Wet'

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — Fifty Oregon State University students are taking part in a shower marathon, aiming to break the 205-hour record held by University of Oregon students.

The marathon started Tuesday at 8 p.m. on the third floor of Wilson Hall, a men's dormitory. It will have to continue until next Thursday to break the record. One person must be in the shower at all times.

Kiwanians Hear 2 World Of Ohio Magazine Aides

How the articles and photographs are prepared for the monthly publication "The Wonderful World of Ohio" was described for Kiwanis Club members Thursday by two staffers of the magazine.

Mrs. Pat Sperling, writer, and Bob Shanaman, photographer, spoke at the meeting at the Travelers Hotel as guests of Delmar T. O'Hara.

The two are working on a feature story about the W. C. Bunting Co. of the East End. O'Hara is president.

Mrs. Sperling said plans call for it to be sold nationally very soon, with the addition of four more pages and a more durable cover.

Outgrowth of an original conservation bulletin of the state, it now aims at providing at entertaining and educational source of information about the state and its many resources, designed to encourage Ohioans and out-of-staters to travel within Ohio.

Shanaman explained the photographic methods and problems involved, and related some of his experiences as a staff member.

E. H. Horst, 56, Pennsylvania Legislator, Dies

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) Enos H. Horst, 56 - year - old legislator and businessman who had served in the State House of Representatives continuously since 1955, died today in Chambersburg Hospital.

Horst, a Republican, had suffered a heart attack several months ago and only recently returned to fulltime duties. He was hospitalized with an attack of pneumonia on Oct. 17 and discharged on Oct. 25. A week later, he returned to the hospital and had been a patient there until his death.

Horst was a native of Chambersburg, born Feb. 8, 1911. A successful businessman, he was elected to the House in 1954, and reelected biennially ever since. He was a graduate of Mercersburg Academy and the Bliss Electrical School in Washington, D. C.

Horst engaged in electrical contracting and had considerable real estate holdings here. He was a Lutheran and past president of the Pennsylvania unit of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Jan. 8 Trial Date Set In Slaying Case

WELLSBURG (AP) — Charles Ravnell, 32, of Campbell, Ohio, was returned to jail here Thursday after pleading innocent to charges of murder, attempted armed robbery and felonious assault.

Ravnell was arraigned before Brooke County Circuit Judge Ralph Pryor, who set a Jan. 8 trial date for Ravnell on the murder charge.

A Brooke County grand jury indicted Ravnell last Monday in connection with the Sept. 27 slaying of Charles L. Nagy, a Weirton restaurant operator.

Nagy and his wife were jumped by two men, police said, while Nagy was carrying a considerable sum of money to work. Mrs. Nagy was injured and sought shelter in a house near the Weirton street slaying.

The other person allegedly involved has not been found.

Ravnell was returned to jail in lieu of $95,000 bond.

Interest Sought In Forming Area Play Productions

An effort to organize a little theater group in the tri-state district will be held at a meeting Thursday night at 7:30 at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

A letter to the editor column of The Review and an editorial about the possibility of such a drama organizatoin has brought indication of interest from a number of people.

Anyone willing to take part in the production of plays has been invited to the meeting, Mrs. Harry Wilson of Glenmoor, and Donald Langsdale, Beaver Local teacher, announced.

They emphasized the group could include residents of the Midland, Wellsville, Lisbon and East Palestine areas and north Hancock County, whether adults or young people.

Should sufficient interest be shown, plans will be made to form a group and undertake productions, Mrs. Wilson said. Anyone interested but unable to attend may notify Mrs. Wilson at 385-2063.

Just 'Two' Attractive

WEST UNION, W. Va. (AP) — Residents of this Doddridge County community wanted to attract a doctor to their town, so they chipped in and built a $50,000 medical center.

They got not one but two doctors, and a nurse in the bargain.

Dr. Frederica Lehmann, a pediatrician and former faculty member at the Alabama Medical School, and Dr. Sutcharit Bhamornbutr, a native of Thailand, have both agreed to practice medicine here.

Dr. Mhamornbutr comes with a ready-trained nurse, his wife, Yamlaer.

Moore To Announce

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., R-W.Va., flies home today to tell his constituents whether he will seek the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Moore has scheduled a news conference Saturday in Wheeling, at which he is to announce his plans.

Asked about speculation that he would seek the governorship, Moore said only that he would have "an appropriate comment" on the subject Saturday.

Post Honors 4 Physicians At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Four physicians, with a combined service to the community of over 100 years, were honored in a surprise program at a "Veterans Day" dinner of American Legion Post 31 Thursday night.

The four, all affiliated with the Legion, are Dr. J. S. Atchison of 54 S. Market St., Dr. W. S. Elliott of W. Hiland Ave., Dr. Charles Kissinger of Neely's Manor and Dr. A. M. Simpson of 2836 Neeld Rd.

Dr. Atchison started practicing in 1911, served in World War I, and was a charter member of the post. Dr. Elliott, a native of Ontario, Canada, served in World War II and came here in 1939.

Dr. Kissinger, a native of New Castle, Pa., served in England in World War II and came here in 1947. Dr. Simpson, a native of Burkton, Ontario, served 3½ years in the army and started here in 1946.

Plaques were presented the four by Bruce Nichols, commander.

Kiwanians Hear 2 World Of Ohio Magazine Aides

How the articles and photographs are prepared for the monthly publication "The Wonderful World of Ohio" was described for Kiwanis Club members Thursday by two staffers of the magazine.

Mrs. Pat Sperling, writer, and Bob Shanaman, photographer, spoke at the meeting at the Travelers Hotel as guests of Delmar T. O'Hara.

The two are working on a feature story about the W. C. Bunting Co. of the East End. O'Hara is president.

Mrs. Sperling said plans call for it to be sold nationally very soon, with the addition of four more pages and a more durable cover.

Outgrowth of an original conservation bulletin of the state, it now aims at providing at entertaining and educational source of information about the state and its many resources, designed to encourage Ohioans and out-of-staters to travel within Ohio.

Shanaman explained the photographic methods and problems involved, and related some of his experiences as a staff member.

E. H. Horst, 56, Pennsylvania Legislator, Dies

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP) Enos H. Horst, 56 - year - old legislator and businessman who had served in the State House of Representatives continuously since 1955, died today in Chambersburg Hospital.

Horst, a Republican, had suffered a heart attack several months ago and only recently returned to fulltime duties. He was hospitalized with an attack of pneumonia on Oct. 17 and discharged on Oct. 25. A week later, he returned to the hospital and had been a patient there until his death.

Horst was a native of Chambersburg, born Feb. 8, 1911. A successful businessman, he was elected to the House in 1954, and reelected biennially ever since. He was a graduate of Mercersburg Academy and the Bliss Electrical School in Washington, D. C.

Horst engaged in electrical contracting and had considerable real estate holdings here. He was a Lutheran and past president of the Pennsylvania unit of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Horst's death reduces the House Republican membership to 102, the bare majority needed to pass legislation.

Jan. 8 Trial Date Set In Slaying Case

WELLSBURG (AP) — Charles Ravnell, 32, of Campbell, Ohio, was returned to jail here Thursday after pleading innocent to charges of murder, attempted armed robbery and felonious assault.

Ravnell was arraigned before Brooke County Circuit Judge Ralph Pryor, who set a Jan. 8 trial date for Ravnell on the murder charge.

A Brooke County grand jury indicted Ravnell last Monday in connection with the Sept. 27 slaying of Charles L. Nagy, a Weirton restaurant operator.

Nagy and his wife were jumped by two men, police said, while Nagy was carrying a considerable sum of money to work. Mrs. Nagy was injured and sought shelter in a house near the Weirton street slaying.

The other person allegedly involved has not been found.

Ravnell was returned to jail in lieu of $95,000 bond.

Interest Sought In Forming Area Play Productions

An effort to organize a little theater group in the tri-state district will be held at a meeting Thursday night at 7:30 at the Potters Savings and Loan Co. annex.

A letter to the editor column of The Review and an editorial about the possibility of such a drama organizatoin has brought indication of interest from a number of people.

Anyone willing to take part in the production of plays has been invited to the meeting, Mrs. Harry Wilson of Glenmoor, and Donald Langsdale, Beaver Local teacher, announced.

They emphasized the group could include residents of the Midland, Wellsville, Lisbon and East Palestine areas and north Hancock County, whether adults or young people.

Should sufficient interest be shown, plans will be made to form a group and undertake productions, Mrs. Wilson said. Anyone interested but unable to attend may notify Mrs. Wilson at 385-2063.

Just 'Two' Attractive

WEST UNION, W. Va. (AP) — Residents of this Doddridge County community wanted to attract a doctor to their town, so they chipped in and built a $50,000 medical center.

They got not one but two doctors, and a nurse in the bargain.

Dr. Frederica Lehmann, a pediatrician and former faculty member at the Alabama Medical School, and Dr. Sutcharit Bhamornbutr, a native of Thailand, have both agreed to practice medicine here.

Dr. Mhamornbutr comes with a ready-trained nurse, his wife, Yamlaer.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Arch A. Moore Jr., R-W.Va., flies home today to tell his constituents whether he will seek the Republican nomination for governor next year.

Moore has scheduled a news conference Saturday in Wheeling, at which he is to announce his plans.

Asked about speculation that he would seek the governorship, Moore said only that he would have "an appropriate comment" on the subject Saturday.

Post Honors 4 Physicians At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Four physicians, with a combined service to the community of over 100 years, were honored in a surprise program at a "Veterans Day" dinner of American Legion Post 31 Thursday night.

The four, all affiliated with the Legion, are Dr. J. S. Atchison of 54 S. Market St., Dr. W. S. Elliott of W. Hiland Ave., Dr. Charles Kissinger of Neely's Manor and Dr. A. M. Simpson of 2836 Neeld Rd.

Dr. Atchison started practicing in 1911, served in World War I, and was a charter member of the post. Dr. Elliott, a native of Ontario, Canada, served in World War II and came here in 1939.

Dr. Kissinger, a native of New Castle, Pa., served in England in World War II and came here in 1947. Dr. Simpson, a native of Burkton, Ontario, served 3½ years in the army and started here in 1946.

Plaques were presented the four by Bruce Nichols, commander.

Mrs. Marilyn Warner of Akron, Ohio American Legion Auxiliary president, spoke at the event attended by 110.

EAST LIVERPOOL REVIEW

New Look At City Schools

East Liverpool's voters are apparently in favor of a reappraisal of the city's education system, its operations, its future.

Thomas Rodfong and George Ward, who campaigned for a new look at the schools, better communications with the public and broadened school programs, received in Tuesday's election a combined total of 5,456 votes—far more than the combined vote of all three incumbent board members who were running—4,850.

Add to this vote pattern the 1,529 ballots for Richard Wolf, outspoken critic of the board and the school administration, plus the votes for the other candidates who expressed various degrees of dissatisfaction with board policies, and the attitude of the electorate becomes even more significant.

Samuel Brown, veteran board member, received a new term as the leader of the nine remaining candidates on the ballot, and he has been known as somewhat of a dissenter on the present board.

We are convinced that the people of East Liverpool are not gravely concerned about the status of our schools, about the quality of education, about administration — primarily because we believe there are no critical problems with respect to any of these factors in the system.

But there is an obvious desire to do whatever can be done to make our "average" education program better, to increase the scope of offerings, to inspire new confidence between the schools and community — all with the limited tax resources of the school district in mind.

East Liverpool needs kindergartens, more teacher aides, better coordinated curriculum, up-to-date reading programs, more opportunities for the slow learner and the gifted learner, expanded vocational training, additional enrichment courses, many other improvements which spell the difference between just another school system and one which is doing a really good job of preparing young people for a full life, a proper career.

To be interested in the schools, to want to help upgrade them and to make constructive suggestions is not the same as being critical for criticisms sake, a fact which overly sensitive educators should understand.

Quality of education is one of the most difficult intangibles of civilization to measure. It not only varies from individual student and teacher, but within each school and certainly between school systems and states. It is a reflection of socio-economic aspects of a community, tax bases, administration, board, civic spirit and other aspects.

Most visitors to schools this National Education Week will not with any certainty be able to judge the quality of education in the classrooms, but they will recognize the many changes which have taken place over the past two decades.

The new board of education — not as separate individuals but as an integral group—should certainly recognize the public's interest in the need for a new analysis of the schooling program as it will apply to the buildings under construction and to the coming generation of students.

It will be no easy task, but it is one which the new members have promised and one for which all five are now responsible as the result of the election outcome.

Dream The Impossible Dream

Construction of the Saturn V rocket by the United States is an example of the unbelievable success that can come through motivation, dedication and cooperation.

When the first Sputnik sent its ominous beep-beep back to earth, the United States breathed life into a tiny, plodding space program.

There was a common goal—to build bigger and better space vehicles than Russia, for protection and prestige.

In the intervening years, the United States has built sprawling complexes, coordinated efforts of geniuses, utilized potential of electronic systems, developed many by products useful to man, added immeasurably to man's knowledge and altered the course of history.

It hasn't been smooth. It has been costly. It took the lives of some fine Americans. But the program has flourished.

There is a building at Cape Kennedy that is the largest in the world. It was designed to hold four of the largest rockets in the world—Saturn Vs.

Saturn V is the culmination of the space effort at this point. It stands 36 stories high and is bigger and more powerful than anything the Russians even have talked about.

To transport it required a special vehicle built specifically for the task. The enormous seven-million-pound caterpillar crawler is the heaviest thing that has ever moved on the earth.

America's space program accomplishment truly is almost beyond comprehension—and there is more to come.

It is intriguing to think the program was built, in effect, without a blueprint. There were no precedents. The program was "flying by the seat of its pants."

Today, after years of experiments, planning and direction are system. Everyone accepts the fact we will have men on the moon in a few short years. Just 10 years ago we would gladly have paid several billion dollars just for the knowledge of how to put a basketball-size satellite into orbit. It seemed an impossible task. Today, American space officials can do it blindfolded.

With this record of unparalleled success before us, it would seem that our task now is to apply the same technique to problems that seemingly defy solution.

A nation that can do what the United States has done in space can surely come up with answers to frustrating problems of slums and racial discord.

It calls for bold, creative thinking within a formula that has proved successful in the space challenge: motivation, dedication and cooperation equal success.

Return Of The Ombudsman

Nonpartisan delegates to the 32nd American Assembly, sponsored by Columbia University, have called for establishment of ombudsman offices at the local and state level throughout the nation.

Ombudsman, you remember, is a Swedish term for a Mr. Fix-It; a man who handles complaints of inefficiency, discourteousness, fraud and any other abuse of public authority directed toward private citizens.

At latest count, more than half of all state legislatures in the United States are considering some kind of ombudsman proposal.

Hawaii is the only state that has approved an ombudsman act and it hasn't filled the office yet.

Each ombudsman act approved by a city council or a state legislature is a testament to the fact the governing body is so wracked with corruption, so filled with unreasonableness, unfairness and oppressiveness that a decent citizen cannot get a fair shake.

Few councilmen or state legislators want to admit this. The party in power hates to go on record that things are so bad someone needs to keep an eye on the goings on.

If things are in that bad a shape, why isn't something being done to correct it within existing machinery? Why aren't heads rolling?

A thought that can dash a whole bucketful of cold water on the ombudsman proposal concerns the operation of the office.

If it is a one-man deal, how can one man possibly keep his eye on what is going on in a hundred different places? There is bound to be more than one complaint, so how does everyone get prompt, satisfactory service? Hire more people at taxpayers' expense?

That could run into money. Aren't we paying public officials enough to run an honest show?

By the way, who will watch the ombudsman to see that he is acting with integrity, fairness and the interest of the citizens at heart?

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

Russians are hell-bent on towing space missiles through Red Square in parades. Anyone want to bet the show-off missiles are not mock-ups stuffed with excelsior, like the Russian bomber fleet that turned out to be non-existent? Or was that a case of some politicians being stuffed with, er, excelsior?

A school reform plan in New York City calls for creating dozens of autonomous districts, instead of continuing centralized inefficiency, a proposal that should interest people elsewhere who want to centralize everything.

When other people feel sorry for losers in light political races, I wonder about the losers' wives. For hubby, politics becomes a sport; you win some and lose some. But losing is stark tragedy for wives.

The more I think about it, the more merit I find in the idea of reflectors on the sides of railroad cars to pick up auto headlight beams at unguarded crossings where there is danger of driving blindly into freight and coal trains after dark.

Anyone who never grasped the real secret the United States, where the idea is to minimize differences for the sake of national unity, should take a look at the Middle East, where the idea is to be irreconcilable.

It took Saturn V an incredibly long time to get off the pad on its test firing in the early morning hours of Nov. 9, and I knew how it felt. It wasn't one of my better mornings, either.

The next time around I intend to take advantage of what I learned the first time and learn a trade, along with earning an academic degree, so I can fall back on a bread-and-butter occupation in a pinch.

John N. Garner, referring to his two terms as vice president of the United States, called giving up the job of speaker of the House for the No. 2 spot on the winning ticket of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the "worst damn-fool mistake I ever made" and said the vice presidency "didn't amount to a hill of beans."

If Life Magazine can make its allegations stick against the Senate Ethics Committee's hearings on Sen. Edward V. Long, Missouri Democrat, there should be an immediate resignation of all the senators accused of whitewashing what may turn into a smellier scandal than the Bobby Baker incident.

Recruiting Officer

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Invited To Hanoi

CHICAGO: — It was Labor Day in Paris. But it was no holiday for some bright young men. They were Central Intelligence Agency "spooks." They had learned that 11 North Vietnamese labor leaders were due in the French capital that afternoon.

Victor Riesel

For our CIA specialists their arrival was no real problem. The Communist Vietnamese band was covered. The intelligence reports were processed. These documents made their way to the proper desks at the CIA headquarters in Washington and undoubtedly were read by Dick Helms and other authorized "eyes only" persons.

A few days later, on Sept. 14, the visit no longer was a CIA problem. Led by Hoang Quoc Viet, official chairman of Hanoi's national federation of labor, the visitors from Southeast Asia broke cover by calling a press conference.

From then on out they became the problem of those U.S. labor leaders who have been gathering here in Chicago these past few days in what is called the National Labor Leadership Assembly For Peace.

The National Labor Assembly has been billed as "evidence" of a rebellion against American organized labor's staunch, inflexible support of the war against the North Vietnamese Communist Party Central Committee's army and revolutionary cadres sometimes known as the Viet Cong.

This assembly, conjured by the small labor section of SANE, has attracted international intellectual attention. It is the sort of conference, some 450 strong, which the journals of opinion love to whip into the imagery of a mass movement.

ALL THIS THEN is their problem. Such assemblies become an agitational center of gravity attracting fellow travelers. I was in Paris when the Hanoi troupe arrived and there is no doubt that Mr. Viet wanted to get in on the action planned for this past week here.

On Sept. 14, Viet held a press conference during which his translator said quite clearly and quite authoritatively (since he was Hanoi's special secret agent in charge of the Communist unionists) that American labor leaders now are welcome in Hanoi:

"We are ready to make contact with labor leaders of the U.S.," said he. "We want to ask them to visit our country to witness our determination to struggle on.

"We highly appreciate the struggle of the U.S. trade unions and the democratic organizations against the war."

This was the first public invitation to American labor chiefs to journey behind what presumably can be considered the enemy lines.

Since then the world press has made much of the laborite peace assembly in the Center For Continuing Education of the University of Chicago. Therefore the leaders of this assembly carry on their shoulders and consciences the urgency of distinguishing between dissent from Lyndon Johnson's and George Meany's policies and giving the omnipresent fellow travelers a free ride.

The assembly was carefully organized. A hall was chosen small enough to prevent any "gallery" from being seized by outsiders. Though "calls" went out to 5,000 union leaders in and out of the AFL-CIO, capacity has been restricted to 450. But what of these 450? Who are they?

AMONG THEM, OF COURSE, are the organizers now dueling to the political death with the Johnson administration. There is no doubt that the activists among them are officials of the United Auto Workers.

There is no doubt that without the strength and influence of UAW secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey, UAW International Affairs Dept. Director Victor Reuther (and his aides) and UAW people all the way from New York and New Jersey to Texas there would be no anti-Johnson peace assembly. True, the operation has been directed by officials of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers headquarters. True, the assemblage has the support of this union's vice-president. Frank Rosenblum. But he now is nearing 80. The other sponsors are 70 or over. They have unions, such as the Meat Cutters and the International Woodworkers, to occupy their time.

However, it is basically the show of the militantly antiwar faction of the UAW. One activist is the all-purpose Ed Gray, an assistant UAW regional director. Another is Nate Slough, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Industrial Union Council, a UAW creation.

But among the peace assembly delegates are officials of independent unions ousted from the old CIO 18 years ago for following the Soviet line. And they do not come as lone dissenters. Their unions have voted them authority to speak for the membership.

Thus the sharp image of dissent blurs a bit. Reuther and Mazey and Rosenblum, and another sponsor, Pat Gorman, are sophisticated labor leaders. They know a fellow traveler when they see one. And they can see and hear plenty. Now it is their problem to get the fuzziness out of their cause.

Odd Facts

Man's first flight into the stratosphere was made in May 1931 when the famed physicist, Prof. Auguste Piccard, and Charles Knipfer ascended in a balloon from Augsburg, Germany, and reached a height of 51,793 feet in a 17-hour flight.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Uncertainty

Two members of the U.S. Supreme Court, Justices Stewart and Douglas, dissented when six other justices refused to grant a review in a test suit brought by three soldiers drafted into the army in 1965 and ordered to Vietnam.

Justice Marshall took no part in the case.

Justices Stewart and Douglas said that while they didn't want to intimate what their conclusions would be if the case were given a hearing, they felt the court should first decide whether it had the power to rule on the issues.

If a majority concluded it was within the court's authority to go into the matter, there would then be an examination of some of the "large and deeply troubling questions" which exist in the case.

THESE INVOLVE a controversy over whether the conflict in Southeast Asia is a "war" within the meaning of the Constitution and whether these soldiers could be legally ordered to go to Vietnam. Justice Douglas said:

"A host of problems is raised. Does the President's authority to repeal invasions and quiet insurrections, his powers in foreign relations and his duty to execute faithfully the laws of the United States, including its treaties, justify what has been threatened of petitioners? What is the relevancy of the Gulf of Tonkin resolution and the yearly appropriations in support of the Vietnam effort?"

Mr. Douglas pointed out that the Southeast Asia Treaty, the Kellogg-Briand Pact and articles in the U.N. Charter "deal with various aspects of wars of 'aggression.'"

He asked this question: "Do any of them embrace hostilities in Vietnam, or give rights to individuals affected by them to complain, or in other respects give rise to justifiable controversies?"

The provision in the Constitution which gives Congress the power "to declare war" doesn't say just when war has to be formally proclaimed. What is not pertinent, however, is that the Constitution separately provides that the president of the United States is commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

As such, he is authorized to engage in military operations to insure the security of this country. Again and again in history, presidents have found there was no time to ask for a declaration by Congress. They had to act immediately in order to prevent catastrophes.

The strategy of the United States today is based primarily upon the potential use of our manpower and military resources as a "deterrent." At any moment — without even consulting Congress — a president may have to order a nuclear attack in retaliation for such an onslaught by the enemy. He certainly need not wait hours or days for Congress to adopt a resolution embodying a "declaration of war."

Even more significant is the long list of precedents over the last 150 years wherein the chief executive has ordered troops into foreign lands to protect the lives and property of U.S. citizens.

U.S. TROOPS or naval forces have been sent into ports in every continent of the world and sometimes have remained on duty for many months.

In most instances, no congressional resolutions were passed. Congress, of course, could have refused to authorize the continued use of the troops, or expenditure of public funds for such purposes.

What is known as the Tonkin Gulf Resolution — adopted overwhelmingly by both houses of Congress in August 1964 — authorized the President, as commander-in-chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression in southeast Asia.

It may be argued that this referred only to a particular threat arising in this area. But since Congress has not limited the scope of the resolution or subsequently modified it, the President has every right to assume that the resolution has the broadest meaning when it authorizes military action to defend a country that has been promised American protection by the Southeast Asia Treaty.

The fact the majority of the U.S. Supreme Court decided not to pass judgment on the legality or illegality of American military operations in Vietnam is in itself an indicaton that no persuasve legal points have been cited to alter the present situation.

New Look At City Schools

East Liverpool's voters are apparently in favor of a reappraisal of the city's education system, its operations, its future.

Thomas Rodfong and George Ward, who campaigned for a new look at the schools, better communications with the public and broadened school programs, received in Tuesday's election a combined total of 5,456 votes—far more than the combined vote of all three incumbent board members who were running—4,850.

Add to this vote pattern the 1,529 ballots for Richard Wolf, outspoken critic of the board and the school administration, plus the votes for the other candidates who expressed various degrees of dissatisfaction with board policies, and the attitude of the electorate becomes even more significant.

Samuel Brown, veteran board member, received a new term as the leader of the nine remaining candidates on the ballot, and he has been known as somewhat of a dissenter on the present board.

We are convinced that the people of East Liverpool are not gravely concerned about the status of our schools, about the quality of education, about administration — primarily because we believe there are no critical problems with respect to any of these factors in the system.

But there is an obvious desire to do whatever can be done to make our "average" education program better, to increase the scope of offerings, to inspire new confidence between the schools and community — all with the limited tax resources of the school district in mind.

East Liverpool needs kindergartens, more teacher aides, better coordinated curriculum, up-to-date reading programs, more opportunities for the slow learner and the gifted learner, expanded vocational training, additional enrichment courses, many other improvements which spell the difference between just another school system and one which is doing a really good job of preparing young people for a full life, a proper career.

To be interested in the schools, to want to help upgrade them and to make constructive suggestions is not the same as being critical for criticisms sake, a fact which overly sensitive educators should understand.

Quality of education is one of the most difficult intangibles of civilization to measure. It not only varies from individual student and teacher, but within each school and certainly between school systems and states. It is a reflection of socio-economic aspects of a community, tax bases, administration, board, civic spirit and other aspects.

Most visitors to schools this National Education Week will not with any certainty be able to judge the quality of education in the classrooms, but they will recognize the many changes which have taken place over the past two decades.

The new board of education — not as separate individuals but as an integral group—should certainly recognize the public's interest in the need for a new analysis of the schooling program as it will apply to the buildings under construction and to the coming generation of students.

It will be no easy task, but it is one which the new members have promised and one for which all five are now responsible as the result of the election outcome.

Dream The Impossible Dream

Construction of the Saturn V rocket by the United States is an example of the unbelievable success that can come through motivation, dedication and cooperation.

When the first Sputnik sent its ominous beep-beep back to earth, the United States breathed life into a tiny, plodding space program.

There was a common goal—to build bigger and better space vehicles than Russia, for protection and prestige.

In the intervening years, the United States has built sprawling complexes, coordinated efforts of geniuses, utilized potential of electronic systems, developed many by products useful to man, added immeasurably to man's knowledge and altered the course of history.

It hasn't been smooth. It has been costly. It took the lives of some fine Americans. But the program has flourished.

There is a building at Cape Kennedy that is the largest in the world. It was designed to hold four of the largest rockets in the world—Saturn Vs.

Saturn V is the culmination of the space effort at this point. It stands 36 stories high and is bigger and more powerful than anything the Russians even have talked about.

To transport it required a special vehicle built specifically for the task. The enormous seven-million-pound caterpillar crawler is the heaviest thing that has ever moved on the earth.

America's space program accomplishment truly is almost beyond comprehension—and there is more to come.

It is intriguing to think the program was built, in effect, without a blueprint. There were no precedents. The program was "flying by the seat of its pants."

Today, after years of experiments, planning and direction are system. Everyone accepts the fact we will have men on the moon in a few short years. Just 10 years ago we would gladly have paid several billion dollars just for the knowledge of how to put a basketball-size satellite into orbit. It seemed an impossible task. Today, American space officials can do it blindfolded.

With this record of unparalleled success before us, it would seem that our task now is to apply the same technique to problems that seemingly defy solution.

A nation that can do what the United States has done in space can surely come up with answers to frustrating problems of slums and racial discord.

It calls for bold, creative thinking within a formula that has proved successful in the space challenge: motivation, dedication and cooperation equal success.

Return Of The Ombudsman

Nonpartisan delegates to the 32nd American Assembly, sponsored by Columbia University, have called for establishment of ombudsman offices at the local and state level throughout the nation.

Ombudsman, you remember, is a Swedish term for a Mr. Fix-it; a man who handles complaints of inefficiency, discourteousness, fraud and any other abuse of public authority directed toward private citizens.

At latest count, more than half of all state legislatures in the United States are considering some kind of ombudsman proposal.

Hawaii is the only state that has approved an ombudsman act and it hasn't filled the office yet.

Each ombudsman act approved by a city council or a state legislature is a testament to the fact the governing body is so wracked with corruption, so filled with unreasonableness, unfairness and oppressiveness that a decent citizen cannot get a fair shake.

Few councilmen or state legislators want to admit this. The party in power hates to go on record that things are so bad someone needs to keep an eye on the goings on.

If things are in that bad a shape, why isn't something being done to correct it within existing machinery? Why aren't heads rolling?

A thought that can dash a whole bucketful of cold water on the ombudsman proposal concerns the operation of the office.

If it is a one-man deal, how can one man possibly keep his eye on what is going on in a hundred different places? There is bound to be more than one complaint, so how does everyone get prompt, satisfactory service? Hire more people at taxpayers' expense?

That could run into money. Aren't we paying public officials enough to run an honest show?

By the way, who will watch the ombudsman to see that he is acting with integrity, fairness and the interest of the citizens at heart?

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

Russians are hell-bent on towing space missiles through Red Square in parades. Anyone want to bet the show-off missiles are not mock-ups stuffed with excelsior, like the Russian bomber fleet that turned out to be non-existent? Or was that a case of some politicians being stuffed with, er, excelsior?

A school reform plan in New York City calls for creating dozens of autonomous districts, instead of continuing centralized inefficiency, a proposal that should interest people elsewhere who want to centralize everything.

When other people feel sorry for losers in tight political races, I wonder about the losers' wives. For hubby, politics becomes a sport; you win some and lose some. But losing is stark tragedy for wives.

The more I think about it, the more merit I find in the idea of reflectors on the sides of railroad cars to pick up auto headlight beams at unguarded crossings where there is danger of driving blindly into freight and coal trains after dark.

Anyone who never grasped the real secret he United States, where the idea is to minimize differences for the sake of national unity, should take a look at the Middle East, where the idea is to be irreconcilable.

It took Saturn V an incredibly long time to get off the pad on its test firing in the early morning hours of Nov. 9, and I knew how it felt. It wasn't one of my better mornings, either.

The next time around I intend to take advantage of what I learned the first time and learn a trade, along with earning an academic degree, so I can fall back on a bread-and-butter occupation in a pinch.

John N. Garner, referring to his two terms as vice president of the United States, called giving up the job of speaker of the House for the No. 2 spot on the winning ticket of Franklin D. Roosevelt, the "worst damn-fool mistake I ever made" and said the vice presidency "didn't amount to a hill of beans."

If Life Magazine can make its allegations stick against the Senate Ethics Committee's hearings on Sen. Edward V. Long, Missouri Democrat, there should be an immediate resignation of all the senators accused of whitewashing what may turn into a smellier scandal than the Bobby Baker incident.

Recruiting Officer

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor Invited To Hanoi

CHICAGO: — It was Labor Day in Paris. But it was no holiday for some bright young men. They were Central Intelligence Agency "spooks." They had learned that 11 North Vietnamese labor leaders were due in the French capital that afternoon.

Victor Riesel

For our CIA specialists their arrival was no real problem. The Communist Vietnamese band was covered. The intelligence reports were processed. These documents made their way to the proper desks at the CIA headquarters in Washington and undoubtedly were read by Dick Helms and other authorized "eyes only" persons.

A few days later, on Sept. 14, the visit no longer was a CIA problem. Led by Hoang Quoc Viet, official chairman of Hanoi's national federation of labor, the visitors from Southeast Asia broke cover by calling a press conference.

From then on out they became the problem of those U.S. labor leaders who have been gathering here in Chicago these past few days in what is called the National Labor Leadership Assembly For Peace.

The National Labor Assembly has been billed as "evidence" of a rebellion against American organized labor's staunch, inflexible support of the war against the North Vietnamese Communist Party Central Committee's army and revolutionary cadres sometimes known as the Viet Cong.

This assembly, conjured by the small labor section of SANE, has attracted international intellectual attention. It is the sort of conference, some 450 strong, which the journals of opinion love to whip into the imagery of a mass movement.

ALL THIS THEN is their problem. Such assemblies become an agitational center of gravity attracting fellow travelers. I was in Paris when the Hanoi troupe arrived and there is no doubt that Mr. Viet wanted to get in on the action planned for this past week here.

On Sept. 14, Viet held a press conference during which his translator said quite clearly and quite authoritatively (since he was Hanoi's special secret agent in charge of the Communist unionists) that American labor leaders now are welcome in Hanoi:

"We are ready to make contact with labor leaders of the U.S.," said he. "We want to ask them to visit our country to witness our determination to struggle on.

"We highly appreciate the struggle of the U.S. trade unions and the democratic organizations against the war."

This was the first public invitation to American labor chiefs to journey behind what presumably can be considered the enemy lines.

Since then the world press has made much of the laborite peace assembly in the Center For Continuing Education of the University of Chicago. Therefore the leaders of this assembly carry on their shoulders and consciences the urgency of distinguishing between dissent from Lyndon Johnson's and George Meany's policies and giving the omnipresent fellow travelers a free ride.

The assembly was carefully organized. A hall was chosen small enough to prevent any "gallery" from being seized by outsiders. Though "calls" went out to 5,000 union leaders in and out of the AFL-CIO, capacity has been restricted to 450. But what of these 450? Who are they?

AMONG THEM, OF COURSE, are the organizers now dueling to the political death with the Johnson administration. There is no doubt that the activists among them are officials of the United Auto Workers.

There is no doubt that without the strength and influence of UAW secretary-treasurer Emil Mazey, UAW International Affairs Dept. Director Victor Reuther (and his aides) and UAW people all the way from New York and New Jersey to Texas there would be no anti-Johnson peace assembly. True, the operation has been directed by officials of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers headquarters. True, the assemblage has the support of this union's vice-president. Frank Rosenblum. But he now is nearing 80. The other sponsors are 70 or over. They have unions, such as the Meat Cutters and the International Woodworkers, to occupy their time.

However, it is basically the show of the militantly antiwar faction of the UAW. One activist is the all-purpose Ed Gray, an assistant UAW regional director. Another is Nate Slough, secretary-treasurer of the Texas Industrial Union Council, a UAW creation.

But among the peace assembly delegates are officials of independent unions ousted from the old CIO 18 years ago for following the Soviet line. And they do not come as lone dissenters. Their unions have voted them authority to speak for the membership.

Thus the sharp image of dissent blurs a bit. Reuther and Mazey and Rosenblum, and another sponsor, Pat Gorman, are sophisticated labor leaders. They know a fellow traveler when they see one. And they can see and hear plenty. Now it is their problem to get the fuzziness out of their cause.

Odd Facts

Man's first flight into the stratosphere was made in May 1931 when the famed physicist, Prof. Auguste Piccard, and Charles Knipfer ascended in a balloon from Augsburg, Germany, and reached a height of 51,793 feet in a 17-hour flight.

DAVID LAWRENCE

Uncertainty

Two members of the U.S. Supreme Court, Justices Stewart and Douglas, dissented when six other justices refused to grant a review in a test suit brought by three soldiers drafted into the army in 1965 and ordered to Vietnam.

Justice Marshall took no part in the case.

Justices Stewart and Douglas said that while they didn't want to intimate what their conclusions would be if the case were given a hearing, they felt the court should first decide whether it had the power to rule on the issues.

If a majority concluded it was within the court's authority to go into the matter, there would then be an examination of some of the "large and deeply troubling questions" which exist in the case.

THESE INVOLVE a controversy over whether the conflict in Southeast Asia is a "war" within the meaning of the Constitution and whether these soldiers could be legally ordered to go to Vietnam. Justice Douglas said:

"A host of problems is raised. Does the President's authority to repeal invasions and quiet insurrections, his powers in foreign relations and his duty to execute faithfully the laws of the United States, including its treaties, justify what has been threatened of petitioners? What is the relevancy of the Gulf of Tonkin resolution and the yearly appropriations in support of the Vietnam effort?"

Mr. Douglas pointed out that the Southeast Asia Treaty, the Kellogg-Briand Pact and articles in the U.N. Charter "deal with various aspects of wars of 'aggression.'"

He asked this question: "Do any of them embrace hostilities in Vietnam, or give rights to individuals affected by them to complain, or in other respects give rise to justifiable controversies?"

The provision in the Constitution which gives Congress the power "to declare war" doesn't say just when war has to be formally proclaimed. What is not pertinent, however, is that the Constitution separately provides that the president of the United States is commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

As such, he is authorized to engage in military operations to insure the security of this country. Again and again in history, presidents have found there was no time to ask for a declaration by Congress. They had to act immediately in order to prevent catastrophes.

The strategy of the United States today is based primarily upon the potential use of our manpower and military resources as a "deterrent." At any moment — without even consulting Congress — a president may have to order a nuclear attack in retaliation for such an onslaught by the enemy. He certainly need not wait hours or days for Congress to adopt a resolution embodying a "declaration of war."

Even more significant is the long list of precedents over the last 150 years wherein the chief executive has ordered troops into foreign lands to protect the lives and property of U.S. citizens.

U.S. TROOPS or naval forces have been sent into ports in every continent of the world and sometimes have remained on duty for many months.

In most instances, no congressional resolutions were passed. Congress, of course, could have refused to authorize the continued use of the troops, or expenditure of public funds for such purposes.

What is known as the Tonkin Gulf Resolution — adopted overwhelmingly by both houses of Congress in August 1964 — authorized the President, as commander-in-chief, to take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression in southeast Asia.

It may be argued that this referred only to a particular threat arising in this area. But since Congress has not limited the scope of the resolution or subsequently modified it, the President has every right to assume that the resolution has the broadest meaning when it authorizes military action to defend a country that has been promised American protection by the Southeast Asia Treaty.

The fact the majority of the U.S. Supreme Court decided not to pass judgment on the legality or illegality of American military operations in Vietnam is in itself an indicaton that no persuasve legal points have been cited to alter the present situation.

Thanksgiving Prayer Given By President

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson, proclaiming Nov. 23 as Thanksgiving Day, has offered a prayer that God will bless the nation with wisdom and perseverance.

He expressed hope that these qualities "will lead us to both peace and justice, in the family of nations and in our beloved homeland."

Johnson said that while Americans are grateful at this season for many material and spiritual blessings, "we are conscious, in this year, of special sorrows and disappointments."

He mentioned what he termed the "painful conflict of Asia, which was not of our choosing," and said Americans "are saddened by the civil strife which has occurred in our great cities."

The chief executive said that Americans pray that the sacrifice of their fighting men in Vietnam "'will be redeemed in an honorable peace and the restoration of a land long torn by war."

tention and the action placed on the journal. No vote was taken Thursday. The commissioners' next meeting is Monday.

Commissioner R. Max Gard, a Democrat, said the question had never been discussed in a commission meeting until yesterday.

He said he told the other commissioners the county courts setup under Stacey is an example of efficient administration. He said he told them the county would have to appoint a supervisor to take the Clerk of Courts' place and this would be an added salary.

The law establishing county courts gave supervision to the Clerk of Courts or County Commissioners. The clerk has received nothing extra for the supervision.

Each of the courts has two women clerks while Southwest Court, which is never closed, has three men clerks for night duty.

Stacey said the two commissioners have talked to his personnel and offered them more money and chief deputy jobs if they will stay. "It's simply a political grab of personnel," Stacey declared.

Tax Renewal Returns Rate To 1 Per Cent

Midland Borough Council, in re-enacting its wage tax Wednesday night, increased the millage from 8 to 10 mills.

The millage originally had been 10, or 1 per cent, but was reduced to 8 mills in 1966, Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary said.

The increase will mean additional revenue of $40,000 to $60,000 annually. The borough receives $60,000 quarterly from the wage tax.

Council said the increase was made to covering a pending loss of some $65,000 annually in real estate taxes from the Midland Division of Crucible Steel Co. as a result of a recent decision in Bucks County Court which further defined machinery.

The decision, borough officials said, ruled that girders and support blocks on which cranes are mounted are machinery and as such are exempt from real estate taxes.

Midland expects to work out an arrangement with Crucible to repay what the courts are expected to rule is due the firm. The funds probably will be paid back in installments stretching over several years.

Council also indicated pay increases probably will be sought by street and police department employes.

Flu Causes Absenteeism At Westgate

A virus flu has hit Westgate Junior High School, causing a high absenteeism rate among the students.

Supt. Paul Blair said 174 in junior high and 73 elementary students were absent today. A total of 1,821 attends Westgate.

Blair said Mrs. Edna Jones, school nurse, is checking each case and after consultations with physicians it was decided to cancel assemblies in the building.

Absenteeism of teachers in the entire system was high for the same reason, Blair said, with 24 being out.

The flu apparently has not hit the other buildings like Westgate. Blair said there were many rumors concerning the cause of the absenteeism, ranging from food poisoning to fumes.

Thanksgiving Prayer Given By President

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson, proclaiming Nov. 23 as Thanksgiving Day, has offered a prayer that God will bless the nation with wisdom and perseverance.

He expressed hope that these qualities "will lead us to both peace and justice, in the family of nations and in our beloved homeland."

Johnson said that while Americans are grateful at this season for many material and spiritual blessings, "we are conscious, in this year, of special sorrows and disappointments."

He mentioned what he termed the "painful conflict of Asia, which was not of our choosing," and said Americans "are saddened by the civil strife which has occurred in our great cities."

The chief executive said that Americans pray that the sacrifice of their fighting men in Vietnam "'will be redeemed in an honorable peace and the restoration of a land long torn by war."

tention and the action placed on the journal. No vote was taken Thursday. The commissioners' next meeting is Monday.

Commissioner R. Max Gard, a Democrat, said the question had never been discussed in a commission meeting until yesterday.

He said he told the other commissioners the county courts setup under Stacey is an example of efficient administration. He said he told them the county would have to appoint a supervisor to take the Clerk of Courts' place and this would be an added salary.

The law establishing county courts gave supervision to the Clerk of Courts or County Commissioners. The clerk has received nothing extra for the supervision.

Each of the courts has two women clerks while Southwest Court, which is never closed, has three men clerks for night duty.

Stacey said the two commissioners have talked to his personnel and offered them more money and chief deputy jobs if they will stay. "It's simply a political grab of personnel," Stacey declared.

Transit Company Suing Union In Cincinnati Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Transit Co. has filed a $5 million plus damage suit against the transport workers' union that went on strike Nov. 1 in a contract dispute.

No further talks took place Thursday between the company and the Amalgamated Transit Union. The negotiators have been meeting from time to time in the office of a federal Mediator.

The suit filed in U.S. District Court Thursday asked for $5 million damage plus $16,585 a day to compensate Cincinnati Transit for continuing operating expenses. There have been no buses on the streets since the strike started, but the company said it is still paying wages to some employes.

Stokes And Wife Vacationing In Virgin Islands

Island Gov. Ralph Paiewonsky said Stokes was making the trip as the guest of his government.

Before taking off, Stokes held a reception for Council members in a downtown hotel suite. He indicated afterward that he expected to have a good working relationship with council.

Council President James V. Stanton and 22 others attended the reception. Stanton said Stokes promised to work closely with the 33-member council in seeking solutions to city problems.

Laxity Seen In U.S. 'War' On Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, heading a Senate panel probing big-city riots, says hearings indicate laxity in the federal antipoverty program.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, said he hopes its probe will lead to reform within the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in an interview he feels the investigation may be turning into a trial of the federal antipoverty agency. "This is not the place to try the OEO," said Javits.

"I'm not out to get the OEO," McClellan said in a separate interview, but added he felt the probe might point up the need for policy changes within the agency.

When the inquiry resumes in about a week the operation of poverty-fighting programs in Nashville, Tenn., is again expected to be a major topic.

So far, the investigation of Negro disorders in Nashville and in Houston has been marked by charges of ties between poverty workers and racial militants.

McClellan said he does not know whether this will be a pattern as the subcommittee moves on to other cities in a riot investigation expected to continue well into next year.

He said the inquiry will continue until it determines the pattern of cause and possible cure in city race riots "But when that point will be, I don't know," he said.

The OEO faces a different kind of problem in the House—a Republican effort to reduce its funds by $600 million.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., proposed Thursday reducing from $2.06 billion to $1.4 billion President Johnson's money request for the OEO in fiscal 1968.

The House isn't expected to vote on the proposal until next week. But in preliminary debate, Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., called Goodell's plan a reckless attempt to kill the anti-poverty program.

However, trouble loomed for the program on the Democratic side, too, as Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee declared that the most his committee will approve for the program is $1.6 billion. McClellan raised the question: "Are we spending money recklessly to placate somebody"

The first regularly - scheduled radio programs began a relatively short time ago — in 1921. Since then, research to develop radio has led to radar, television, and other electronic wonders. The development of television in the 1940's and 1950's brought many changes in radio programming, but television itself still depends on radio waves to carry its pictures and sounds.

In an opening statement Tuesday, Bauknecht said the evidence would show the steering mechanism was damaged when Jackson bumped a tree in a field at the party site and this damage, of which the driver was unaware, caused the wreck at the curve. The car struck rocks and a tree.

STATE witnesses testified the front end of the right front fender and the headlight were damaged in the first, but that Jackson pulled the fender away from the tire so he could proceed.

Marvin McKenzie of Highlandtown, St. Clair Township constable who inspected the car as it left the party area and again after the second crash, said the damage to the right front was more extensive after the second accident.

Patrolman J. W. Van Horne of Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon, the state's final witness, said "tire scuffs" left in the gravel by sliding tires measured 72 feet and led up to the rocks and trees. He said both tires on the right side were flat after the accident.

Van Horne said he inspected the vehicle the next day at the B. & J. Ashland Station in LaCroft and checked the steering. "I found the wheels turned in response to the steering wheel."

Bauknecht asked if he had raised the car to make a visual inspection of the steering or had asked a mechanic to check it. Van Horne said he had not.

IT WAS during cross-examination of Van Horne that Bauknecht asked about an inspection of the death car Wednesday night at the home of Donald Poynter on Route 45 near Glasgow.

The exchange brought out that James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecuting attorney; Patrolman Van Horne, Cpl. Samuel Smith of Post 15 and a Mr. Neville, a mechanic, went to Poynter's to look at the car. The mechanic found that the tierod and axle were bent.

"Did you or any of the men with you make a statement that you would have to develop a different theory as to this wreck" Bauknecht asked.

"'No, sir," Van Horne replied. He said he did say something to the effect that the damage to the vehicle looked worse last night than it did the night of the accident.

After the wreck, the car was moved the same night on a wrecker truck to the Ashland station in LaCroft, then two days later on dollys to Roberts Sunoco Service in Wellsville, where it was unloaded behind Johnson's Pontiac Garage.

THE MOVERS called to testify for the defense were John Smith of Route 30, East Liverpool; Allen McGaffick of Substation, East Liverpool, and Gregg Thrasher, 17, of Township Line Rd., Wellsville, who, the latter part of July, towed it rear-end-up to Poynter's residence.

They said they did nothing to damage the steering. McGaffick said the right front wheel was kind of bent out — "we couldn't tow it backward, and the tire was flat." Thrasher said one of the wheels was bent and "the car wanted to go off the road—it was pulling to one side."

Poynter testified he bought the car through Bob Johnson some time in July for $295. He said "I thought I would see if I could fix it; I knew I could get my money back from the parts." He said he discovered the damaged steering when he removed the front fender. He said the steering made a "grating sound" when he tested it at Johnson's garage.

Under cross - examination, Poynter said the defendant's father approached him last summer about using the parts of the car in the trial, and he agreed to let him use them. Poynter said he wants the parts back.

He testified one of the men who inspected the car Wednesday night said, "'We are going to have to revise our thinking on this because this car is damaged worse than we thought."

Poynter said it was dark and he is not sure which man was talking.

Salem Will Get $109,806 From McKeown Estate

LISBON — The city of Salem will receive $109,806 early next year as its share of the $220,406 inheritance tax on the estate of William W. McKeown Jr., who died June 7.

The estate of nearly $7 million and the inheritance tax are the largest in Columbiana County history. Mr. McKeown, who amassed a fortune in insurance stock; resided at 250 16th St.

The Dollars Savings and Trust Co. of Youngstown, the executor, delivered the tax check to V. C. Judge, county treasurer.

Under a formula established by statute, the county auditor and treasurer will receive $4,647 and $5,147, respectively, leaving $219,612 to be divided equally between the state of Ohio and the Salem taxing district.

Youth, 18, Releases Girl Hostage In Akron

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—After a two - hour siege by police, an 18-year-old Akron boy who was holding his 17-year - old girl friend a hostage in his upstairs bedroom, gave up and released her unharmed early today.

Police charged Frank L. Dandridge with kidnaping and assault with a deadly weapon. They said the youth took Helen Renee Lane by force from the home of her mother, Mrs. Bertha Lane, about 10:30 p.m. Thursday.

Driver Not Injured In Hancock Mishap

A motorist escaped injury when his car was demolished in an accident on Route 2 near the Alpine Club between New Cumberland and Weirton about 3 a. m. today.

Transit Company Suing Union In Cincinnati Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Transit Co. has filed a $5 million plus damage suit against the transport workers' union that went on strike Nov. 1 in a contract dispute.

No further talks took place Thursday between the company and the Amalgamated Transit Union. The negotiators have been meeting from time to time in the office of a federal Mediator.

The suit filed in U.S. District Court Thursday asked for $5 million damage plus $16,585 a day to compensate Cincinnati Transit for continuing operating expenses. There have been no buses on the streets since the strike started, but the company said it is still paying wages to some employes.

Stokes And Wife Vacationing In Virgin Islands

Island Gov. Ralph Paiewonsky said Stokes was making the trip as the guest of his government.

Before taking off, Stokes held a reception for Council members in a downtown hotel suite. He indicated afterward that he expected to have a good working relationship with council.

Council President James V. Stanton and 22 others attended the reception. Stanton said Stokes promised to work closely with the 33-member council in seeking solutions to city problems.

Laxity Seen In U.S. 'War' On Poverty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, heading a Senate panel probing big-city riots, says hearings indicate laxity in the federal antipoverty program.

The Arkansas Democrat, chairman of the Senate permanent investigations subcommittee, said he hopes its probe will lead to reform within the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said in an interview he feels the investigation may be turning into a trial of the federal antipoverty agency. "This is not the place to try the OEO," said Javits.

"I'm not out to get the OEO," McClellan said in a separate interview, but added he felt the probe might point up the need for policy changes within the agency.

When the inquiry resumes in about a week the operation of poverty-fighting programs in Nashville, Tenn., is again expected to be a major topic.

So far, the investigation of Negro disorders in Nashville and in Houston has been marked by charges of ties between poverty workers and racial militants.

McClellan said he does not know whether this will be a pattern as the subcommittee moves on to other cities in a riot investigation expected to continue well into next year.

He said the inquiry will continue until it determines the pattern of cause and possible cure in city race riots "But when that point will be, I don't know," he said.

The OEO faces a differnt kind of problem in the House—a Republican effort to reduce its funds by $600 million.

Rep. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., proposed Thursday reducing from $2.06 billion to $1.4 billion President Johnson's money request for the OEO in fiscal 1968.

The House isn't expected to vote on the proposal until next week. But in preliminary debate, Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Ky., called Goodell's plan a reckless attempt to kill the antipoverty program.

However, trouble loomed for the program on the Democratic side, too, as Chairman George H. Mahon, D-Tex., of the Appropriations Committee declared that the most his committee will approve for the program is $1.6 billion. McClellan raised the question: "Are we spending money recklessly to placate somebody"

The first regularly - scheduled radio programs began a relatively short time ago — in 1921. Since then, research to develop radio has led to radar, television, and other electronic wonders. The development of television in the 1940's and 1950's brought many changes in radio programming, but television itself still depends on radio waves to carry its pictures and sounds.

In an opening statement Tuesday, Bauknecht said the evidence would show the steering mechanism was damaged when Jackson bumped a tree in a field at the party site and this damage, of which the driver was unaware, caused the wreck at the curve. The car struck rocks and a tree.

STATE witnesses testified the front end of the right front fender and the headlight were damaged in the first, but that Jackson pulled the fender away from the tire so he could proceed.

Marvin McKenzie of Highlandtown, St. Clair Township constable who inspected the car as it left the party area and again after the second crash, said the damage to the right front was more extensive after the second accident.

Patrolman J. W. Van Horne of Ohio Highway Patrol Post 15 at Lisbon, the state's final witness, said "tire scuffs" left in the gravel by sliding tires measured 72 feet and led up to the rocks and trees. He said both tires on the right side were flat after the accident.

Van Horne said he inspected the vehicle the next day at the B. & J. Ashland Station in LaCroft and checked the steering. "'I found the wheels turned in response to the steering wheel."

Bauknecht asked if he had raised the car to make a visual inspection of the steering or had asked a mechanic to check it. Van Horne said he had not.

IT WAS during cross-examination of Van Horne that Bauknecht asked about an inspection of the death car Wednesday night at the home of Donald Poynter on Route 45 near Glasgow.

The exchange brought out that James D. Primm Jr., assistant prosecuting attorney; Patrolman Van Horne, Cpl. Samuel Smith of Post 15 and a Mr. Neville, a mechanic, went to Poynter's to look at the car. The mechanic found that the tierod and axle were bent.

"Did you or any of the men with you make a statement that you would have to develop a different theory as to this wreck" Bauknecht asked.

"'No, sir," Van Horne replied. He said he did say something to the effect that the damage to the vehicle looked worse last night than it did the night of the accident.

After the wreck, the car was moved the same night on a wrecker truck to the Ashland station in LaCroft, then two days later on dollys to Roberts Sunoco Service in Wellsville, where it was unloaded behind Johnson's Pontiac Garage.

THE MOVERS called to testify for the defense were John Smith of Route 30, East Liverpool; Allen McGaffick of Substation, East Liverpool, and Gregg Thrasher, 17, of Township Line Rd., Wellsville, who, the latter part of July, towed it rear-end-up to Poynter's residence.

They said they did nothing to damage the steering. McGaffick said the right front wheel was kind of bent out — "we couldn't tow it backward, and the tire was flat." Thrasher said one of the wheels was bent and "the car wanted to go off the road—it was pulling to one side."

Poynter testified he bought the car through Bob Johnson some time in July for $295. He said "I thought I would see if I could fix it; I knew I could get my money back from the parts." He said he discovered the damaged steering when he removed the front fender. He said the steering made a "grating sound" when he tested it at Johnson's garage.

Under cross - examination, Poynter said the defendant's father approached him last summer about using the parts of the car in the trial, and he agreed to let him use them. Poynter said he wants the parts back.

He testified one of the men who inspected the car Wednesday night said, "'We are going to have to revise our thinking on this because this car is damaged worse than we thought."

Poynter said it was dark and he is not sure which man was talking.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A neighbor of mine (a young father in his early 20s) came home from work last week and his 2½-year-old son ran out gleefully to meet him.

The father ignored the boy and headed for the refrigerator to get himself a beer. The youngster, who adores his dad, felt very hurt and grabbed his dad around the leg and bit him.

The father howled with pain, grabbed the child, threw him to the kitchen floor and bit him on the thigh. This was six days ago and the father's teeth marks are still clearly visible.

The man's wife believes this was an act of brutality on the part of the father and she told him (and everyone else on the block) that he was a beast. The father insists his method of dealing with the problem is a sure-fire way to break a child of biting. What do you think? — FLABBERGASTED.

Dear Fab: If the father's teeth marks are still visible after six days, I'd say he bit the kid much too hard, and shame on him. You may be surprised to know that many experts agree that a good way to cure a child of biting is to bite him back — but not too hard.

She Goofed

Dear Ann: I'm a 24-year-old girl who recently met a fellow 23. Brian was unusually mature for his age and was very much attracted to me. We spent four evenings together and then I ruined everything I think.

On our fourth date I was sure I was in love with Brian and that he felt the same way about me. He spoke about marriage. When he asked me to spend the night at his place I said yes.

He didn't try to con me. It was something we both wanted and I was confident he would not think less of me for it. We had a beautiful time and Brian promised to call the following day. I don't remember ever having been so happy in my entire life.

That was six days ago and I haven't heard from him. Right now I'm sick with fear that I ruined what might have been the most meaningful relationship of my life.

How can I get this guy back? I want him so much I could die. I'm not a tramp, Ann, I really care for this man. I need your advice. — THE QUEEN OF FOOLS

Dear Queen: I wish I could come up with some encouraging words but I'd be lying if I told you I thought you had a chance to get the guy back. The magic has vanished. In his book you are just another dame with round heels.

This experience need not be a total disaster if you will learn from it. Resolve never again to kid yourself into believing that falling into bed is a short cut to the altar.

Confidentially

To Over the Hill to the Poorhouse: Money can be a weapon. It sounds as if your wife spends money foolishly to get even with you for real or imagined injustices. Close all charge accounts and take over the job of paying the bills yourself. Give "Spend-a-Million Millie" a reasonable allowance and insist that she live on it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening Set By Brickers

A grand opening has been set Thursday for the Brickers delicatessen and cafeteria of W. 6th St., marking completion of the remodeling of the business.

Brickers, which handles Isaly's Dairy Co. products and has operated here since 1929, purchased the building adjacent to the original store and furnished it for a cafeteria seating 76.

The building previously had been occupied by the former Union Credit Clothing Co., drugstores and CATV of Ohio Valley.

The Brickers remodeling program began in May. The firm is operated by Harold Bricker, William Bricker and Lenora Bricker.

Anglers Use Torches As In Biblical Days

Fishermen on the Sea of Galilee used torches to attract fish to their boats at night back in Biblical days. Today commerical herring fishermen on Puget Sound employ the same technique using mercury lamps — the type that illuminates many American streets.

Because herring sleep on the bottom of the sea in daylight, commerical fishing is done after dark when they rise to the surface to feed. One fisherman increased his catch ten-fold.

Officers Are Named By Creative Writers

Janet Andrews was elected president of the East Liverpool High School Creative Writing Club Wednesday.

Her term, as well as those of the other officers, will continue through 1968.

Projects for the year include plans for "Trend Unique," a literary magazine sponsored by David Thorne and edited by Miss Burcham and Dee Douglas. The club also plans to provide articles for The Review. Editors of those articles will be Connie Carmichael and Rhonda Hayes.

Patrick Bonvenuto is the project sponsor.

Tie Yoke For Worker, Head Of Firm Says

TOKYO (AP) — The president of Japan Uniform Center says people who wear neckties don't like to work. He says they wear them to conform to society.

A major Japanese newspaper, the Yomiuri Shombun, interviewed Wajiro Kon on neckties and their introduction to Japan from the west.

Kon was quoted as explaining: "The necktie is worn by people who have no desire to work. The necktie is a yoke that restricts freedom of movement and causes labor efficiency to drop."

He did not elaborate how a dislike for work was linked to the tie.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: A neighbor of mine (a young father in his early 20s) came home from work last week and his 2½-year-old son ran out gleefully to meet him.

The father ignored the boy and headed for the refrigerator to get himself a beer. The youngster, who adores his dad, felt very hurt and grabbed his dad around the leg and bit him.

The father howled with pain, grabbed the child, threw him to the kitchen floor and bit him on the thigh. This was six days ago and the father's teeth marks are still clearly visible.

The man's wife believes this was an act of brutality on the part of the father and she told him (and everyone else on the block) that he was a beast. The father insists his method of dealing with the problem is a sure-fire way to break a child of biting. What do you think? — FLABBERGASTED.

Dear Fab: If the father's teeth marks are still visible after six days, I'd say he bit the kid much too hard, and shame on him. You may be surprised to know that many experts agree that a good way to cure a child of biting is to bite him back — but not too hard.

She Goofed

Dear Ann: I'm a 24-year-old girl who recently met a fellow 23. Brian was unusually mature for his age and was very much attracted to me. We spent four evenings together and then I ruined everything I think.

On our fourth date I was sure I was in love with Brian and that he felt the same way about me. He spoke about marriage. When he asked me to spend the night at his place I said yes.

He didn't try to con me. It was something we both wanted and I was confident he would not think less of me for it. We had a beautiful time and Brian promised to call the following day. I don't remember ever having been so happy in my entire life.

That was six days ago and I haven't heard from him. Right now I'm sick with fear that I ruined what might have been the most meaningful relationship of my life.

How can I get this guy back? I want him so much I could die. I'm not a tramp, Ann, I really care for this man. I need your advice. — THE QUEEN OF FOOLS

Dear Queen: I wish I could come up with some encouraging words but I'd be lying if I told you I thought you had a chance to get the guy back. The magic has vanished. In his book you are just another dame with round heels.

This experience need not be a total disaster if you will learn from it. Resolve never again to kid yourself into believing that falling into bed is a short cut to the altar.

Confidentially

To Over the Hill to the Poorhouse: Money can be a weapon. It sounds as if your wife spends money foolishly to get even with you for real or imagined injustices. Close all charge accounts and take over the job of paying the bills yourself. Give "Spend-a-Million Millie" a reasonable allowance and insist that she live on it.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Opening Set By Brickers

A grand opening has been set Thursday for the Brickers delicatessen and cafeteria of W. 6th St., marking completion of the remodeling of the business.

Brickers, which handles Isaly's Dairy Co. products and has operated here since 1929, purchased the building adjacent to the original store and furnished it for a cafeteria seating 76.

The building previously had been occupied by the former Union Credit Clothing Co., drugstores and CATV of Ohio Valley.

The Brickers remodeling program began in May. The firm is operated by Harold Bricker, William Bricker and Lenora Bricker.

Anglers Use Torches As In Biblical Days

Fishermen on the Sea of Galilee used torches to attract fish to their boats at night back in Biblical days. Today commerical herring fishermen on Puget Sound employ the same technique using mercury lamps — the type that illuminates many American streets.

Because herring sleep on the bottom of the sea in daylight, commerical fishing is done after dark when they rise to the surface to feed. One fisherman increased his catch ten-fold.

Fruit of the dwarf mistletoe "explodes," ejecting its seed at a speed of about 45 feet a second.

Officers Are Named By Creative Writers

Her term, as well as those of the other officers, will continue through 1968.

Projects for the year include plans for "Trend Unique," a literary magazine sponsored by David Thorne and edited by Miss Burcham and Dee Douglas. The club also plans to provide articles for The Review. Editors of those articles will be Connie Carmichael and Rhonda Hayes.

Patrick Bonvenuto is the project sponsor.

Tie Yoke For Worker, Head Of Firm Says

TOKYO (AP) — The president of Japan Uniform Center says people who wear neckties don't like to work. He says they wear them to conform to society.

A major Japanese newspaper, the Yomiuri Shombun, interviewed Wajiro Kon on neckties and their introduction to Japan from the west.

Kon was quoted as explaining: "The necktie is worn by people who have no desire to work. The necktie is a yoke that restricts freedom of movement and causes labor efficiency to drop."

He did not elaborate how a dislike for work was linked to the tie.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Underweights Need Extra Calories

For the tired, thin girl, weight gaining is often an uphill climb. Knowing what to expect can keep you from becoming discouraged.

Ida Jean Kain

To begin with, you have to build a better appetite and this is a gradual process. When you eat all you want it is logical to assume that you are eating sufficient food. Not having a demanding appetite, you may forget to eat until suddenly you feel depleted. Then if you try to eat you fill up quickly.

Poor appetite can result from a combination of factors — faulty eating habits, irregularity of meals, anemia, constipation and chronic fatigue. Have a check over by a good medical man. Weight gaining is a grim struggle if you are anemic, or if you have a chronic infection. Let the doctor help you.

Correcting the anemia can make all the difference in the way you face each day. Talk with the doctor about your health habits and your food habits. Some minor changes could put you on the right course.

IT TAKES high quality nutrition plus extra calories for gaining. To store one pound of fat the body must have 3,500 calories in excess of your requirements.

It will take a few weeks for you to accumulate this calorie surplus. Then, even though you eat well and feel more fit, the scales may not register any appreciable gain for a number of weeks. The physiological reason is this: When there are extra calories to be stored, the body releases some of the water from the tissues and stores the fat in its place.

When the displaced water weighs as much as the added fat, no change is registered on the scales. Do not lose heart. One day you will note a gain. This will be the result of increased calories over a period of time.

Devise ways to enjoy breakfast. In the morning you are rested and better able to take care of food. This I can promise you. . .once you build an appetite for the first meal of the day, you will look upon breakfast as your very favorite meal.

CHRONIC over - fatigue is a common factor back of failure to gain. In experiments with underweight children and adults, all measures for gaining failed until regular rest periods were added.

It was found that rest before the noon meal and before the evening meal were remarkably effective. Of course this is not possible for all underweight individuals. But when you appreciate the need for rest, you may be able to find ways to fit more rest into your living pattern.

You have everything to gain by improving your nutrition and your health habits.

No Extinguisher, But Beer Does Trick

CORRY, Pa (AP) — A floor rug dropped through a hole in the back seat, fell on a hot muffler and set afire a car carrying four Roman Catholic nuns.

They stopped Russell Dingfelder, who was driving by, and asked if he had a fire extinguisher.

"No," he said, "but I do have a can of beer."

"By all means, use it." one urged him.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Underweights Need Extra Calories

For the tired, thin girl, weight gaining is often an uphill climb Knowing what to expect can keep you from becoming discouraged.

Ida Jean Kain

To begin with, you have to build a better appetite and this is a gradual process. When you eat all you want it is logical to assume that you are eating sufficient food. Not having a demanding appetite, you may forget to eat until suddenly you feel depleted. Then if you try to eat you fill up quickly.

Poor appetite can result from a combination of factors — faulty eating habits, irregularity of meals, anemia, constipation and chronic fatigue. Have a check over by a good medical man. Weight gaining is a grim struggle if you are anemic, or if you have a chronic infection. Let the doctor help you.

Correcting the anemia can make all the difference in the way you face each day. Talk with the doctor about your health habits and your food habits. Some minor changes could put you on the right course.

IT TAKES high quality nutrition plus extra calories for gaining. To store one pound of fat the body must have 3,500 calories in excess of your requirements.

It will take a few weeks for you to accumulate this calorie surplus. Then, even though you eat well and feel more fit, the scales may not register any appreciable gain for a number of weeks. The physiological reason is this: When there are extra calories to be stored, the body releases some of the water from the tissues and stores the fat in its place.

Auditor Asks Salary Boost For 2nd Time

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger has sent a letter to all members of City Council reminding them if his $4,200-a-year salary is not raised before Dec. 31 he will have to serve the next four years at the same rate.

Pointing out that any raise he is granted must be approved before the new term begins Jan. 1, Zollinger asked Council to consider a boost in his salary at its next regular meeting Nov. 20. Only three regular meetings remain in the 1966-67 biennium, he pointed out.

Zollinger also sent each Council member a copy of his original letter seeking a pay increase, which was mailed Feb. 28, 1967. At that time, he asked a hike to "'at least $7,200 a year."

Zollinger cited figures gathered by the Ohio Municipal League on the salaries paid to auditors in eight other cities in East Liverpool's approximate population bracket. He pointed out that the scales range from $7,918 to $10,348 a year and average out to $9,014 a year.

The auditor also cited a series of pay increases granted city employes in the last few years.

"I would like you to take into consideration the fact that the auditor has not received an increase since Jan. 1, 1956, while all other city employes' wages have been increased several times during this period," he wrote.

He said a survey of 51 municipalities in Ohio showed he is the lowest paid city auditor.

"Considering the responsibility of the postion of city auditor, I feel that when the finance committee makes recommendations for pay increases, they should take this increase into consideration," Zollinger wrote. "It is not right that several city employes with less responsibility should receive more pay than the city auditor."

Actor Charles Bickford Dies In Hospital At 78

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Charles Bickford, who played rugged he-man roles on the stage, screen and television, died Thursday night at 78.

After suffering an attack of emphysema, he was hospitalized last July. The illness later was complicated by an infection of the bloodstream and pneumonia.

A friend said Bickford was "still hard, strong and gruff" until the end.

Survivors include his widow, actress Beatrice Loring, whom he married in 1919, and a married son Rex, 42, and daughter, Doris. No funeral plans have been made.

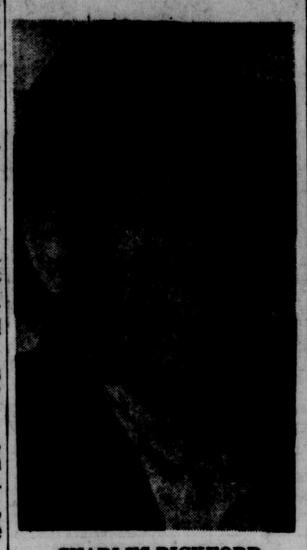
The red-haired Bickford, after more than 100 film credits, was enjoying success in television as the hard-fisted ranch owner on "The Virginian." Recently actor John McIntire—who moved into "Wagon Train" when Ward Bond died—filled in for Bickford.

A multimillionaire, Bickford often played a captain of industry or a domineering father or politician. He won an Academy Award nomination for "Johnny Belinda" but once described Oscars as "a little bit loathsome."

Born January 1, 1889 in Cambridge, Mass., Bickford did almost everything but act in his early years. In his autobiography, "Bulls, Balls, Bicycles and Actors' ' he wrote in sprightly style of things that happened to him in transit from a roughneck logger, hobo, barker, roach exterminator, U.S. Navy boxer, vaudeville performer, Broadway star to cinema.

Once he got into a dispute with Louis B. Mayer, and the producer fired him.

"I wouldn't give in, I wouldn't be disciplined," Bickford recalled, "and Mayer said I would never play again. The rest of the studios, which didn't dare oppose, stood behind him."



CHARLES BICKFORD
Academy Award Winner.

"I was blacklisted but I stayed on—not because of motion pictures, but because I like California—stayed on, marked time, took care of myself, found outside interests."

Although Bickford admitted that his speak-your-mind, shoot-from-the-lip attitude often won him enemies, he never regretted it.

"I have no use for people in general," he said crustily.

Bickford's show business career began in San Francisco where he found himself penniless after a trip to China. He met two blondes and the manager of a burlesque show, and was invited to have a drink. After a few rounds, the manager asked him to join the show.

Midland Church Hosts Area Baptist Meeting

The Midland First Baptist Church is serving as host for the semi-annual meeting of the Beaver Valley area of the Allegheny Union Baptist Association of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio which opened this morning and will continue through Saturday afternoon.

The conference began at 9:30, with the Missionary Women's Department in session under the direction of Mrs. Frances Ward, area president. The welcome was given by Mrs. Ruby Fleming.

The ministers' wives met this afternoon, with Mrs. Leroy Webster, area president, presiding. The speaker was Mrs. Lilly Jones of Midland. Mrs. William Harris of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Midland took part in the devotions.

Another feature of the afternoon program was a sermon by the Rev. R. C. Williams of Aliquippa.

The Young People and Young Adult Department will meet tonight at 7, with Miss Mable Haskin, area president, presiding. The Rev. J. E. Becton of Aliquippa will preach.

The session then will resume at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, with the call to worship given by Mrs. O. M. Brown.

Worship and music will be conducted by the host Sunday School, with Mrs. Carrie Belle McCauley, superintendent in charge. The conference will resume after dinner, with Miss Bertha Allen worship leader. The Rev. S. C. Taylor of Aliquippa will deliver the sermon.

Marshal Probes $200 Summitville Burglary

SUMMITVILLE — Marshal Forest Young is investigating a burglary reported Thursday afternoon by Leon Messer.

Messer said someone apparently entered his house through a coal chute door during his absence and took a coin bank and keepsakes from a dresser top and $200 Christmas money from trousers in the clothes closet.

DAV Groups Plan Party At County Home

Plans for a Christmas party for the Columbiana County Home at Lisbon were outlined at a meeting of the Disabled American Veterans Chapter 47 and its Auxiliary Wednesday night at the hall on Smith St.

A social hour which followed was highlighted by a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watson on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The table was decorated with sprays of silver and gold and a cake inscribed with "Congratulations Ed and Amy" served as a centerpiece. Gold tapers completed the setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson received gold English coffee cups and Mrs. Watson was presented a gardenia corsage.

Music was furnished by Albert Nutz. Group singing was included in the entertainment.

Perfect Scores Recorded By 2 In Trapshooting

Two recorded perfect scores of 25 in trapshooting competition Wednesday night at the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association.

Luther Adkins and Dale Rufener were awarded patches by President Paul Saling for completing their first straight run.

Named winners in the protector shoots were the following teams: John McIntosh and Rufener; Adkins and George Hercules; Ray Thompson and Gary Tolson; Earl Burlingame and James Lawton, and Adkins and Burlingame.

Red bird shoot winners were Harold O'Hanlon and Gary Tolson.

Rufener won the 45 - yard parking lot shoot.

The Club had winners in six protectors, six red bird shoots and four practice rounds. Ray Thompson took honors in the 55-yard shoot.

The club will host the Ohio Valley Protector Championship Sunday at the range on the Elkton Rd. off Route 7.

Shooters from all over Ohio will participate.

'Better Community' To Feature Program

"Planning A Better Community" will be the program topic tonight at Weirton High School as part of the Hancock County Homemakers Christmas Ideas Tea.

Gerald D. Roueche, a senior planner in the West Virginia Department of Commerce will present the slide program beginning at 8:30 as part of a countywide information program on the "Comprehensive Plan." Deed, Mortgage Figures Given

LISBON — Columbiana County last month recorded 438 deeds with a consideration of $2,145,776 and 280 mortgages amounting to $2,655,754.

Other instruments recorded last month were: 264 mortgage cancellations ($2,115,262), 32 service discharges, 22 federal tax releases, 15 federal tax liens, five unemployment compensation releases, three surety bonds, two persoanl tax releases, a plat, unemployment compensation lien, mechanic's lien and power of attorney.

Suit Questions Motor Vehicle Inspection Law

An appeal of a traffic violation has been filed in Brooke County questioning the validity of the West Virginia motor vehicle inspection law.

The appeal to a charge of operating a vehicle without an inspection sticker was filed on behalf of Thomas A. Iaquinta of Weirton by his father, Samuel Iaquinta.

The appeal charges the law is unconstitutional on the grounds it does not apply equally. Fire trucks, street sweepers and various types of heavy construction equipment need not be inspected under the law.

Therefore, Iaquinta contends, it violates the equal protection under the law provisions of the constitution.

Auditor Asks Salary Boost For 2nd Time

Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger has sent a letter to all members of City Council reminding them if his $4,200-a-year salary is not raised before Dec. 31 he will have to serve the next four years at the same rate.

Pointing out that any raise he is granted must be approved before the new term begins Jan. 1, Zollinger asked Council to consider a boost in his salary at its next regular meeting Nov. 20. Only three regular meetings remain in the 1966-67 biennium, he pointed out.

Zollinger also sent each Council member a copy of his original letter seeking a pay increase, which was mailed Feb. 28, 1967. At that time, he asked a hike to "'at least $7,200 a year."

Zollinger cited figures gathered by the Ohio Municipal League on the salaries paid to auditors in eight other cities in East Liverpool's approximate population bracket. He pointed out that the scales range from $7,918 to $10,348 a year and average out to $9,014 a year.

The auditor also cited a series of pay increases granted city employes in the last few years.

"I would like you to take into consideration the fact that the auditor has not received an increase since Jan. 1, 1956, while all other city employes' wages have been increased several times during this period," he wrote.

He said a survey of 51 municipalities in Ohio showed he is the lowest paid city auditor.

"Considering the responsibility of the postion of city auditor, I feel that when the finance committee makes recommendations for pay increases, they should take this increase into consideration," Zollinger wrote. "It is not right that several city employes with less responsibility should receive more pay than the city auditor."

Actor Charles Bickford Dies In Hospital At 78

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actor Charles Bickford, who played rugged he-man roles on the stage, screen and television, died Thursday night at 78.

After suffering an attack of emphysema, he was hospitalized last July. The illness later was complicated by an infection of the bloodstream and pneumonia.

A friend said Bickford was "still hard, strong and gruff" until the end.

Survivors include his widow, actress Beatrice Loring, whom he married in 1919, and a married son Rex, 42, and daughter, Doris. No funeral plans have been made.

The red-haired Bickford, after more than 100 film credits, was enjoying success in television as the hard-fisted ranch owner on "The Virginian." Recently actor John McIntire—who moved into "Wagon Train" when Ward Bond died—filled in for Bickford.

A multimillionaire, Bickford often played a captain of industry or a domineering father or politician. He won an Academy Award nomination for "Johnny Belinda" but once described Oscars as "a little bit loathsome."

Born January 1, 1889 in Cambridge, Mass., Bickford did almost everything but act in his early years. In his autobiography, "Bulls, Balls, Bicycles and Actors' 'he wrote in sprightly style of things that happened to him in transit from a roughneck logger, hobo, barker, roach exterminator, U.S. Navy boxer, vaudeville performer, Broadway star to cinema.

Once he got into a dispute with Louis B. Mayer, and the producer fired him.

"I wouldn't give in, I wouldn't be disciplined," Bickford recalled, "and Mayer said I would never play again. The rest of the studios, which didn't dare oppose, stood behind him."

"I was blacklisted but I stayed on—not because of motion pictures, but because I like California—stayed on, marked time, took care of myself, found outside interests."

Although Bickford admitted that his speak-your-mind, shoot-from-the-lip attitude often won him enemies, he never regretted it.

"I have no use for people in general," he said crustily.

Bickford's show business career began in San Francisco where he found himself penniless after a trip to China. He met two blondes and the manager of a burlesque show, and was invited to have a drink. After a few rounds, the manager asked him to join the show.

DAV Groups Plan Party At County Home

Plans for a Christmas party for the Columbiana County Home at Lisbon were outlined at a meeting of the Disabled American Veterans Chapter 47 and its Auxiliary Wednesday night at the hall on Smith St.

A social hour which followed was highlighted by a surprise party for Mr. and Mrs. Ed Watson on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

The table was decorated with sprays of silver and gold and a cake inscribed with "Congratulations Ed and Amy" served as a centerpiece. Gold tapers completed the setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Watson received gold English coffee cups and Mrs. Watson was presented a gardenia corsage.

Music was furnished by Albert Nutz. Group singing was included in the entertainment.

Perfect Scores Recorded By 2 In Trapshooting

Two recorded perfect scores of 25 in trapshooting competition Wednesday night at the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective Association.

Luther Adkins and Dale Rufener were awarded patches by President Paul Saling for completing their first straight run.

Named winners in the protector shoots were the following teams: John McIntosh and Rufener; Adkins and George Hercules; Ray Thompson and Gary Tolson; Earl Burlingame and James Lawton, and Adkins and Burlingame.

Rufener won the 45 - yard parking lot shoot.

The Club had winners in six protectors, six red bird shoots and four practice rounds. Ray Thompson took honors in the 55-yard shoot.

The club will host the Ohio Valley Protector Championship Sunday at the range on the Elkton Rd. off Route 7.

Shooters from all over Ohio will participate.

'Better Community' To Feature Program

"Planning A Better Community" will be the program topic tonight at Weirton High School as part of the Hancock County Homemakers Christmas Ideas Tea.

Gerald D. Roueche, a senior planner in the West Virginia Department of Commerce will present the slide program beginning at 8:30 as part of a countywide information program on the "Comprehensive Plan." All women's organizations have been encouraged to attend in the hope they will become interested in devioting a program to planning a better community.

Deed, Mortgage Figures Given

LISBON — Columbiana County last month recorded 438 deeds with a consideration of $2,145,776 and 280 mortgages amounting to $2,655.754.

Other instruments recorded last month were: 264 mortgage cancellations ($2,115,262), 32 service discharges, 22 federal tax releases, 15 federal tax liens, five unemployment compensation releases, three surety bonds, two persoanl tax releases, a plat, unemployment compensation lien, mechanic's lien and power of attorney.

Suit Questions Motor Vehicle Inspection Law

An appeal of a traffic violation has been filed in Brooke County questioning the validity of the West Virginia motor vehicle inspection law.

The appeal to a charge of operating a vehicle without an inspection sticker was filed on behalf of Thomas A. Iaquinta of Weirton by his father, Samuel Iaquinta.

The appeal charges the law is unconstitutional on the grounds it does not apply equally. Fire trucks, street sweepers and various types of heavy construction equipment need not be inspected under the law.

Therefore, Iaquinta contends, it violates the equal protection under the law provisions of the constitution.

Midland Church Hosts Area Baptist Meeting

The Midland First Baptist Church is serving as host for the semi-annual meeting of the Beaver Valley area of the Allegheny Union Baptist Association of Western Pennsylvania and Eastern Ohio which opened this morning and will continue through Saturday afternoon.

The conference began at 9:30, with the Missionary Women's Department in session under the direction of Mrs. Frances Ward, area president. The welcome was given by Mrs. Ruby Fleming.

The ministers' wives met this afternoon, with Mrs. Leroy Webster, area president, presiding. The speaker was Mrs. Lilly Jones of Midland. Mrs. William Harris of the Mt. Olive Baptist Church of Midland took part in the devotions.

Another feature of the afternoon program was a sermon by the Rev. R. C. Williams of Aliquippa.

The Young People and Young Adult Department will meet tonight at 7, with Miss Mable Haskin, area president, presiding. The Rev. J. E. Becton of Aliquippa will preach.

The session then will resume at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, with the call to worship given by Mrs. O. M. Brown.

Worship and music will be conducted by the host Sunday School, with Mrs. Carrie Belle McCauley, superintendent in charge. The conference will resume after dinner, with Miss Bertha Allen worship leader. The Rev. S. C. Taylor of Aliquippa will deliver the sermon.

Marshal Probes $200 Summitville Burglary

SUMMITVILLE — Marshal Forest Young is investigating a burglary reported Thursday afternoon by Leon Messer.

Messer said someone apparently entered his house through a coal chute door during his absence and took a coin bank and keepsakes from a dresser top and $200 Christmas money from trousers in the clothes closet.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR HELOISE: Have you ever accidentally put a plastic wrapper (like bread comes in) on hot chrome, such as a toaster or a waffle iron?

Of course the plastic melts and it is very difficult to take off without scratching the surface of the chrome!

One day I tried fingernail polish remover, and presto! the plastic came off slick as a whistle! ! !

MRS. B. E. FAIR.

This is just the answer I was looking for because last week a bread wrapper melted on our toaster. What a mess.

The remover worked immediately and I can never thank you enough. With everthing coming in plastic today and so many electrical appliances, I can just bet that nearly every home will use your hint.

Hugs and kisses from us all.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Here's my way of disposing of empty cans and lids:

When the juice has been drained off and the contents removed, put the lid back into the can. There's enough moisture left inside of it for the lid to STICK to the bottom!

Then when the trash barrel is full and overflows a little, you won't have the problem of picking up those loose lids one at a time that have fallen out on the ground or are stuck to the bottom of your garbage can.

I know — I've picked up a few!

MRS. C.E.S.

Another thing, too. You can press the open end of the can together to make sure that the top doesn't fall out. Besides, it takes up less room in your trash barrel.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I take an old bed sheet and cut about a yard off one end. Then fold it in half lengthwise and slip the top of my electric blanket inside of the folded sheet. I baste on both sides by hand using large stitches, but being very careful not to sew into the wiring.

After winter is over, I take off the sheet cover and my blanket is still nice and clean. Then I wash and dry the cover and baste it back on again and my blanket is ready for use next winter. — IRENE BOLTE.

DEAR HELOISE: My young daughter begged to learn to iron and came up with a good idea:

When removing men's handkerchiefs from the dryer or clothesline, stack them one on top of the other, corners together. Then when ready to iron, place a stack on the ironing board.

Quickly spray the top one and fold, spray again and iron, using a very hot iron. By the time you reach about the middle of the stack, no spray is necessary.

My first try using this method netted 32 in less than 10 minutes. And from one who hates ironing, that's a record.

Since this hint came from a nine-year-old who, "Just thought it up, Mommie," I thought it worth passing on.

MOTHER.

DEAR HELOISE: When you are making a lemon pie and it calls for the juice and grated rind of one lemon, try this:

Squeeze the juice of one lemon, remove all of the seeds with a spoon, then grind the rind — pulp and all — in your food chopper or electric blender by adding the juice to it.

I used the tiniest blade that came with mine, and it was the best-flavored lemon pie I've ever made in my entire life!

MERRELL BROWN.

DEAR HELOISE: Pieces of styrofoam make excellent pin cushions.

The pins cling to them and needles don't work their way inside as they do an ordinary pin cushion.

Hays Defends Viet Policies

COLUMBUS — "Beatnik" protesters were assailed and the Vietnam war defended yesterday by U.S. Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Democrat of Flushing, Ohio. He spoke here at the state convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Protests against the war have been "magnified out of proportion," Hays said. He is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"A lot of the people who took part in the recent march on Washington were college kids who were just looking for an excuse for a weekend with the girlfriend with nobody watching," Hays said. "I understand the bars in Georgetown were full."

He agreed that "many sincere Americans have reservations about the war," but added "'there is a difference between disagreement and anarchy."

The Belmont County resident said that U.S. presence in Vietnam prevented Indonesia from falling to the Communists. The Philippines and the rest of the Southeast Asia would go next, and then Australia and New Zealand, he claimed.

"'If you think they would stop there, you should read history," he added. "'Next they would be in Hawaii and Alaska.

"You can't appease dictators. If we did not learn anything from Adolph Hitler, we don't deserve to survive."

Replying to a question from the audience, Hays said he thought the war might just "dwindle off" with no formal peace meeting. It might be necessary to keep U.S. troops in Vietnam for several more years, he said, but "I think we will have accomplished our objective."

Club Hears Talk On Welfare Work

Mrs. Grace Paul, a second-grade teacher at the Calcutta School, discussed the welfare program in operation within the school when the Calcutta Mothers Club met Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Peg Barker led prayer and announced the group will serve a Bull Dogs Little League football banquet Nov. 18 at the school.

The group, which purchased an adding machine for the school office last month, is in the process of buying drapes and cushion covers for the teachers' lounge.

NUCLEAR SPACE POWER may be represented in the future by power plants like this 22-foot mock-up of a NERVA (Nuclear Engine for Rocket Vehicle Application), displayed in Chicago recently by the Atomic Energy Commission. NERVA is the AEC's answer to the need for a single nuclear rocket engine that could provide continued thrust for a variety of upper stage and spacecraft chores, in place of the limited power available in current propellants.

Hays Defends Viet Policies

COLUMBUS — "Beatnik" protesters were assailed and the Vietnam war defended yesterday by U.S. Rep. Wayne L. Hays, Democrat of Flushing, Ohio. He spoke here at the state convention of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Protests against the war have been "magnified out of proportion," Hays said. He is a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

"A lot of the people who took part in the recent march on Washington were college kids who were just looking for an excuse for a weekend with the girlfriend with nobody watching," Hays said. "I understand the bars in Georgetown were full."

He agreed that "many sincere Americans have reservations about the war," but added "'there is a difference between disagreement and anarchy."

The Belmont County resident said that U.S. presence in Vietnam prevented Indonesia from falling to the Communists. The Philippines and the rest of the Southeast Asia would go next, and then Australia and New Zealand, he claimed.

"'If you think they would stop there, you should read history," he added. "'Next they would be in Hawaii and Alaska.

"You can't appease dictators. If we did not learn anything from Adolph Hitler, we don't deserve to survive."

Replying to a question from the audience, Hays said he thought the war might just "dwindle off" with no formal peace meeting. It might be necessary to keep U.S. troops in Vietnam for several more years, he said, but "I think we will have accomplished our objective."

Building Program Aired By Beaver Local Board

Future action on a Beaver Local School District building program was discussed by the board of education and a number of district residents after the business meeting Thursday night.

A $480,000 bond issue for additions at the high school and Public School was turned down by voters in Tuesday's election.

Dr. Arthur Cloran of the Association for Advancement of Beaver Local Education (ABLE), part of a delegation at the session, said a meeting is planned in the near future to hear representatives from throughout the district discuss the problem of overcrowded schools and what can be done.

IN OTHER action, the board approved a Title Three project involving the purchase of a $129 overhead projector, a $200 amplifier, a $50 microphone and four alcohol lamps for $16.

Clerk William Miller announced approval had been received from the state for purchase of two $7,897 school buses from the Myers Equipment Co. of Canfield. The state pays 73 per cent of the cost.

The board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Mary Baker of Lisbon RD 3 as a bus driver. Three substitute drivers were approved — Mrs. Joanne Malone of Lisbon RD 3, Mrs. Nancy McKinley of Wellsville RD 1 and Marven McKinney of Echo Dell.

The board also approved district participation in a teacher aide training program, with one aide to be at the Calcutta School.

Paul Dailey was named a delegate to a countywide meeting on a county vocational high school Nov. 29 at Lisbon. The board commended the school cooks for taking part in a workshop on their own time.

The board accepted the tax rates as set by the county Budget Commission. The rates, the same as last year, will be 4.6 mills within the 10-mill limitation and 21.1 mills outside the limitation.

MEMBERS took under study a request from a Civil Air Patrol Cadet program representatives to provide a meeting place and sponsorship of the group.

The next meeting will be Dec. 4.

Abusive Phone Calls To Kin Of GIs In Vietnam Decrease

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon reports a great decrease in abusive telephone calls to relatives of U.S. servicemen in Vietnam.

"Calls are continuing as far as is known, but at a greatly reduced level from the 1965 Vietnam buildup period," the Defense Department said Thursday in response to inquiries about the present situation.

The tracing of abusive telephone calls "has proven very successful in attacking this problem," the Pentagon said.

Tracing was started last year and the Pentagon credited the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. with cooperation in the effort.

A rash of abusive telephone calls and some other forms of harassment caused considerable concern to American soldiers in Vietnam.

Some soldiers talking with newsmen in Vietnam have declined to give their home towns or to list the names of their wives or mothers, expressing fear that persons opposed to the war might see the names in print and make upsetting calls to the families.

Responding to the problem, the Senate earlier this year passed a bill by Sen. John Pastore, D-R.I., that would provide federal penalties for "obscene and harassing telephone calls."

The bill, awaiting action by the House Commerce Committee, would impose a maximum $500 fine or six months in jail on anyone convicted of using interstate telephone lines for such purposes.

While asserting the number of such calls has been sharply reduced, the Pentagon said it was unable to provide any figures. "The armed services do not maintain formal reporting requirements in this respect," it said.

The Pentagon also disclaimed any knowledge of arrests or convictions growing out of such calls or other harassment involving service families.

The Pentagon said telephone companies now assign special representatives to investigate complaints of harassing calls.

Staff Sgt. James E. Mahone, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Mahone of 729 Dewey Ave., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroism in Vietnam.

On March 25 he received a fragmentation wound in his back.

Sgt. Mahone is now visiting his parents and will report to Ft. Bragg, N. C., next Wednesday.

Upon graduation in 1959 from East Liverpool High School, he enlisted and received basic training at Ft. Jackson, S. C., after which he attended an airborne school for parachute training at Ft. Campbell, Ky. He was stationed there for two years with the 101st Airborne Division.

Mahone served in Korea from 1961 to 1962 and then one year with the 1st Ranger Battalion at Ft. Benning, Ga. He was in Vietnam for two years, returning to Ft. Campbell in June.

History Of Ohio Updated In New State Publication

COLUMBUS — A new edition of "A History Of Ohio" has just been published by the Ohio Historical Society. The volume brings the history of the state up-to-date and revises sections of the former edition.

Authors F. P. Weisenburger and E. H. Roseboom, professor and professor emeritus of history, respectively, of Ohio State University, have contrasted in a new chapter the great strides Ohio has made since 1953 in economic development and industrial expansion. But they point out the increasing social problems highlighted by riots and a rise of the Negro population of the state by 53.2 per cent since 1960.

They illustrate giant strides taken in the field of interurban transportation and the feverish activities in the educational and social worlds. But against this background of change and progress, the authors stress perplexing and unsolved problems of water and air pollution and the rape of natural resources.

The new history contains 423 illustrations on 443 pages, an up-o-date bibliography and a striking new dust jacket. James H. Rodabaugh, professor of history, Miami University at Oxford, edited the new edition.

Mail orders should be directed to the Ohio Historical Society, Columbus, Ohio, 43210. Retail cost of the volume is $10. Society members, libraries and schools may deduct 20 per cent.

Five Motorists Fined By Judge

Judge D. Barry Dickson of Columbiana county's Eastern District Court Thursday fined five area motorists on various traffic charges. The fines follow:

Richard P. Staley of 1313 Riverview St., East Liverpool, $30 and costs on a charge of driving too fast for road conditions and an additional $5 and costs for driving on an expired license.

Robert Stull Jr. of 7th Ave., LaCroft, $10 and costs for operating an unsafe vehicle; George Edward Grafton of 460 17th St., Wellsville, $5 and costs for improper passing; Clarence Noel of Lisbon RD 5, $10 and costs on a charge of failure to yield the right of way, and Lawrence M. Peters of Negley RD 1, $20 and costs and given a 5-day driver license suspension on a speeding charge.

NEARSIGHTEDNESS AND PROLONGED READING

Q. Is nearsightedness caused or aggravated by prolonged reading?

A. The usual answer to this question is that prolonged reading has nothing to do with nearsightedness. However, recent reports seem to indicate some relationship between the extensiveness and nature of use of the eyes and the development of nearsightedness. Much more research will be needed to confirm this relationship.

DIVERTICULOSIS

Q. What foods should be avoided by a person who has intestinal diverticula?

A. The following general advice is usually given in such cases. Avoid strong laxatives if constipation is present; chew all foods thoroughly; avoid such things as nuts, peel, corn, and raw vegetables such as celery, radish and cucumber. Drastic dietary restriction is usually not desirable. In fact, the diet should provide sufficient bulk to help evacuations. If needed, bulk-producing preparations, as prescribed by the physician, may be used.

Wild Demonstration In Toledo

Hecklers Battle Police During Wallace's Speech

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Hecklers battled police Thursday night in a wild demonstration that disrupted a speech here by former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. Nine persons were arresed.

It was the worst demonstration Wallace has encountered in his cross-country tour to drum up support for a possible third party presidential campaign, a Wallace aide said.

More than a dozen helmeted policemen carrying night sticks broke up the demonstration. Three of the demonstrators had to be forcibly removed from the auditorium, police said.

Wallace was not injured as about 20 persons swarmed around him on the stage to protect him. The demonstration lasted about 15 minutes. He spoke at Whitmer High School's fieldhouse.

Wallace, whose wife is now governor of Alabama, was jeered and booed the minute he began speaking. Fighting broke out after a police lieutenant interrupted Wallace to read to the crowd an Ohio law which prohibits attempts to disrupt a lawful meeting.

Those arrested came from a predominantly Negro group of about 100 persons seated in the front sections. Two white persons were arrested.

Most of the crowd of about 2,200 appeared to be pro-Wallace and gave him a standing ovation when he was introduced.

After the police warning, the protestors began to leave and two of them carried their chairs down the aisle. Police sought to retrieve the chairs and others in the crowd started swinging.

After police put down the demonstration, between 300 and 400 young people also walked out.

Police Capt. Robert Gray said those arrested were charged under the state law. In addition, two of them were charged with resisting arrest and assaulting a police officer.

The demonstrators shouted "We want Rap Brown," referring to the militant Negro leader, and also sang "We Shall Overcome."

The early part of Wallace's speech appeared to be aimed at the hecklers. He repeated at least four times he had never made a speech "that would reflect on anybody because of race or color."

Toledo was Wallace's second stop on a seven-day, six-city tour of Ohio. He was in Akron Wednesday and received mostly a friendly reception. He is to speak in Cleveland today.

Wallace declared his intentions to get on the Ohio ballot next year, but did not come out and say he would be a candidate for president. He needs 433,100 signatures by Feb. 7 to qualify as a third party candidate in Ohio in the 1968 elections.

He said he would announce his candidacy "if neither party gives you a choice in 1968. If they don't, I will."

Wallace said he was in Ohio because "the majority of Americans are sick and tired of some of the trends in this country today. I say that the people of Toledo, of Ohio, and of Alabama are intelligent enough to determine for themselves how they want to operate their schools without Washington trying to do it for them."

He also said any American "who speaks out in favor of a Viet Cong victory should be thrown in jail."

Band At ELHS Pays Tribute To Area's Veterans

East Liverpool High School conducted a Veterans Day observance this morning.

At 11, the Marching Band formed at the intersection of 4th St. and Broadway, led by Mac Ogilvie, Senior Class president.

The band played taps and the national anthem, while students in the classrooms observed a period of silence.

The band then paraded to City Hall where a wreath was placed at the memorial to those who have died in defense of their country.

Southern Ohio Forms Wallace Committee

CINCINNATI (AP) — The formation of a Southern Ohio committee for George C. Wallace-American Independent Party was announced in Cincinnati Thursday.

The former Alabama governor is scheduled to speak here Nov. 15. Joble Olsen was listed as chairman of the new organization.

First Candidates Report Expenses After Campaign

The first candidates have filed sworn statements of their campaign expenses with the County Election Board as an aftermath of the general election Tuesday.

Jonathan Mason, unsuccessful Republican candidate for First Ward councilman, reported he spent $44. Auditor Lawrence Zollinger, Republican, who was returned without opposition, reported no expenses.

Samuel W. Brown, returned to the Board of Education, reported no expenses. The East Liverpool Men's Republican Club spent $212.80, according to the report filed by Lawrence F. Sixt, treasurer.

Dec. 22 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates—whether or not they were successful — and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, warned that failure of any candidate to file a statement within the time specified disqualifies him from being a candidate in any election for the next five years.

U.S. Suit Asks New Vote In Carpenter Unit

CLEVELAND (AP) — The U.S. Labor Department has filed a suit in U.S. District Court asking for a new election of officers in the Carpenters' District Council. The Labor Department alleges that last summer's elections for an executive secretary, a president and five other officers had been unfair.

The suit, filed Thursday, alleges that the election was unfair because Local 182 refused John Theiss as a delegate to the council although his election had been certified.

The early part of Wallace's speech appeared to be aimed at the hecklers. He repeated at least four times he had never made a speech "that would reflect on anybody because of race or color."

Toledo was Wallace's second stop on a seven-day, six-city tour of Ohio. He was in Akron Wednesday and received mostly a friendly reception. He is to speak in Cleveland today.

Wallace declared his intentions to get on the Ohio ballot next year, but did not come out and say he would be a candidate for president. He needs 433,100 signatures by Feb. 7 to qualify as a third party candidate in Ohio in the 1968 elections.

He said he would announce his candidacy "if neither party gives you a choice in 1968. If they don't, I will."

Wallace said he was in Ohio because "the majority of Americans are sick and tired of some of the trends in this country today. I say that the people of Toledo, of Ohio, and of Alabama are intelligent enough to determine for themselves how they want to operate their schools without Washington trying to do it for them."

He also said any American "who speaks out in favor of a Viet Cong victory should be thrown in jail."

Band At ELHS Pays Tribute To Area's Veterans

East Liverpool High School conducted a Veterans Day observance this morning.

Southern Ohio Forms Wallace Committee

CINCINNATI (AP) — The formation of a Southern Ohio committee for George C. Wallace-American Independent Party was announced in Cincinnati Thursday.

The former Alabama governor is scheduled to speak here Nov. 15. Joble Olsen was listed as chairman of the new organization.

First Candidates Report Expenses After Campaign

The first candidates have filed sworn statements of their campaign expenses with the County Election Board as an aftermath of the general election Tuesday.

Jonathan Mason, unsuccessful Republican candidate for First Ward councilman, reported he spent $44. Auditor Lawrence Zollinger, Republican, who was returned without opposition, reported no expenses.

Samuel W. Brown, returned to the Board of Education, reported no expenses. The East Liverpool Men's Republican Club spent $212.80, according to the report filed by Lawrence F. Sixt, treasurer.

Dec. 22 at 4 p. m. is the deadline for the reports, which are required of all candidates—whether or not they were successful — and from committees which supported or opposed any candidate or issue.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, director of elections, warned that failure of any candidate to file a statement within the time specified disqualifies him from being a candidate in any election for the next five years.

U.S. Suit Asks New Vote In Carpenter Unit

CLEVELAND (AP) — The U.S. Labor Department has filed a suit in U.S. District Court asking for a new election of officers in the Carpenters' District Council. The Labor Department alleges that last summer's elections for an executive secretary, a president and five other officers had been unfair.

The suit, filed Thursday, alleges that the election was unfair because Local 182 refused John Theiss as a delegate to the council although his election had been certified.

NEARSIGHTEDNESS AND PROLONGED READING
Q. Is nearsightedness caused or aggravated by prolonged reading?
A. The usual answer to this question is that prolonged reading has nothing to do with nearsightedness. However, recent reports seem to indicate some relationship between the extensiveness and nature of use of the eyes and the development of nearsightedness. Much more research will be needed to confirm this relationship.
DIVERTICULOSIS
Q. What foods should be avoided by a person who has intestinal diverticula?
A. The following general advice is usually given in such cases. Avoid strong laxatives if constipation is present; chew all foods thoroughly; avoid such things as nuts, peel, corn, and raw vegetables such as celery, radish and cucumber. Drastic dietary restriction is usually not desirable. In fact, the diet should provide sufficient bulk to help evacuations. If needed, bulk-producing preparations, as prescribed by the physician, may be used.

Oak Glen Hosts Beaver Local In Grid Finale Tonight

Weirton Madonna head football coach Joe Krivak, disturbed that a West Virginia state Catholic champion will be declared without a playoff, has asked, in an open letter to the Wheeling Intelligencer, that the Catholic schools join the Secondary Schools Activities Commission.

If such a plea were followed, all schools in West Virginia, public and parochial, would compete in football playoffs and basketball tournaments, eliminating the state Catholic tournament. It is felt by those who know that the smaller Catholic schools are blocking a possible merger because such would mean deprivation of income from the Catholic tournament. The bigger Catholic schools want the chance to prove that they are as good as the public schools in the state.

Krivak thinks that his Blue Don team, 6-1-1, is as good as the other Catholic contenders. Wheeling Central is 10-0, but comparative scores against common foes, Oak Glen and Bellaire St. John's, show little difference. Parkersburg Catholic is unbeaten, but has played a weaker schedule. Charleston Catholic, a strong team, is 6-2. Krivak brushes aside objections to the logistics of a playoff game, but what cannot be brushed aside is how to pick the participants. Parkersburg is not regarded as a worthy contender, but how can an unbeaten team be bypassed for ones with losses, like Weirton Madonna and Charleston? Last year Wheeling whipped Madonna 40-6 in the playoff and Krivak no doubt wants revenge.

A WHILE BACK I mentioned something about a 447-pound lineman reportedly playing for a high school in California, and that I would have to see it to believe it. Well, now I've seen it, or at least a picture. He is Bob (Big Man) Pointer, and his mates on the front four of Santa Barbara High School's defensive line go 265, 312 and 230, for an average of 313 pounds a boy.

TIME MAGAZINE was put in an embarrassing position this week. With a deadline prior to Saturday, Time wrote a sports feature on the Waynesburg-Westminster clash to be played at Waynesburg tomorrow. Unfortunately, both the Titans and the Yellowjackets suffered their first losses of the season Saturday.

LEROY KELLY of the Browns leads the NFL in total yards gained rushing and receiving, among those that have gained at least 100 yards in each category and who are not full-time receivers with 889. Ernie Green of the Browns is a surprising third. Kelly also leads in rushing with 666 yards, while Green is ninth. Ben Davis of the Browns has jumped to the top spot in punt returns, while Don Shy of the Steelers is ninth in kickoff returns. Also in the nine spot are Lou Groza in scoring and Kent Nix in passing. In pass receiving, Dick Compton is third and J. R. Wilburn sixth. In interceptions, Marv Woodson is fifth and Ross Fichtner sixth. Jim Bakken of the Cardinals has booted 22 field goals so far this year, while no one else in the NFL has more than nine.

JOHN SCHNEIDER of Toledo has edged up to sixth nationally in total offense and passing. Cleve Bryant of Ohio U. is 15th in total offense and Tom Sherman of Penn State 17th. In rushing, Dick Conley of Ohio U. is 11th, Bill Mayo of Dayton 15th, Bill Waller of Xavier 16th, Don Fitzgerald of Kent State 20th and Al Moore of Miami 24th. Dale Livingston of Western Michigan is fourth in punting and Marty Barski of the Broncos is 12th in pass receiving. Toledo's Roland Moss is fourth in scoring and Don Abbey of Penn State ninth. Ken Juskowich of West Virginia is third in scoring by kicking, and Ken Crots of Toledo is tied for 22nd in this category. Bob Zimpfer of Bowling Green is seventh in punt returns and Ted Provost of Ohio State and Steve Bailey of Xavier rank 4-5 in interceptions.

Teamwise, things are bleak for Ohio, with Toledo only ranking second in pass defense. West Virginia is ninth in total defense and Western Michigan sixth in punting. In small college figures, the only Ohio school mentioned is Wittenberg, fourth in pass defense.

Falcons Could Spoil Ohio U.'s Title Hopes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green is cast in the spoiler's role Saturday when the once-potent Falcons journey to Athens for a big clash with Ohio University.

The Bobcats, who haven't won a MAC title since 1963, could gain a share of the championship with Toledo with a victory over BG.

Toledo closed out its conference slate last week with a 24-14 decision over Miami that left the Rockets with a 5-1 record. Ohio also would finish 5-1 by topping the Falcons.

OU actually has lost two league games but a Kent triumph over Coach Bill Hess' team was forfeited when it was discovered the Golden Flashes used an ineligible player.

In other major attractions, Ohio State bids for its first victory at home, with winless Wisconsin the opposition; Marshall plays at Kent State; Cincinnati goes to Louisville for a night tiff; Miami visits Dayton; Akron is at Wittenberg; Xavier journeys to Western Michigan; Toledo plays host to Northern Illinois under the lights and Ohio Wesleyan is at home against Mount Union in the top Ohio Conference game of the day.

The Buckeyes (3-3), hoping to go over .500 for the first time this season, are solid favorites to keep Wisconsin out of the victory column. Wisconsin has never won in Ohio Stadium.

Banged-up Kent State should have no trouble disposing of Marshall in a battle for last place in the MAC. The Thundering Herd could finish 0-10.

Toledo (6-1) could turn in its best season in a 50-year history by winning three straight. Northern Illinois should not prove a difficult obstacle.

East Liverpool travels to Alliance, Oak Glen and Beaver Local clash at Newell Memorial Stadium at 8, Columbiana is at East Palestine, Leetonia visits East Canton, Lisbon hosts United, Southern Local is at home to Toronto and Stanton Local treks to Smithfield.

Oak Glen, 2-6-1, and Beaver Local, 4-5, were both deprived of their starting quarterbacks by injuries during the year. Steve Logston and Vic Reed have filled in for Craig Whittington, Golden Bear junior. Logston set a school record for completions in a 13-13 tie with Allegany (Md.) and Reed threw the winning touchdown pass against Philip Barbour. Regulars who will be playing their last game for the West Virginia team are leading ground gainer and scorer. Alan Six, halfback Bob Miller, fullback Harold Marshall, center Rich Gogol, ends Dan Crago, Earl Jackson and Dan Staley, tackle Glenn Greathouse and guard Rich Bryer.

Columbiana, knocked from the unbeaten ranks a week ago by Lisbon, can salvage a tie for the Tri - County league title against the Bulldogs, 5-4. Senior standouts for the Clippers are tailback Bill Ward, fullback Dave Morris, quarterback Bill Gela and defensive end George Lynn. Bulldog aces who will bow out are quarterback Steve Morris, halfback Joe Thompson and end Jim Taucher.

Lisbon, 8-1, which has clinched a tie for the Tri - County League title with Minerva, plays United, 2-7, in a non-league game. Next year the Golden Eagles will join the Tri - County League, giving the loop eight teams again. There were only seven this year due to the departure of Louisville. United broke a four - game losing streak with the sound 31-8 trouncing of Southern Local last week. Tom Wood is the big ground - gainer for Ralph Pardee's club. Lisbon, flying high after beating Columbiana last week, is aiming for possible state recognition and a reversal of last year's 1-9 mark. Senior stickouts for the Blue Devils are fullback John Morgan, halfbacks Mike Rutecki and Gary Toot and guard Jim Morgan.

The game at Southern Local will start at 7:30. Dad's Night will be observed, and the fathers of the varsity players, cheerleaders and managers will be seated in a special section and introduced at halftime. The game will be the finale for Indian coach Ray (Beau) Bell, who is leaving the school to take a job in another field. There are few seniors on the Southern squad, with end Dennis McElroy possibly the best. Southern is 2-6 on the year and has lost its last four. Toronto is 6-3 and a win would give the Red Knights outright possession of the Buckeye Border Conference title. They are 3-0 in league play so far, Southern 1-2.

Stanton Local, 5-3, was surprised by Jefferson Union 30-8 last week. Fullback Elmer Tice and tackle-end Bill Koehnlein are the top seniors for the Red Raiders.

NY Knicks Use Depth To Wear Down Royals

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

So says Willis Reed.

And for a time Thursday night it looked like it was going to be another one of those hard times for Reed and the rest of the New York Knickerbockers.

The Knicks, considered by most observers to have more talent than they've had in many a year, looked something like a computer with its tape in backwards as they fell behind 32-22 to Cincinnati after one quarter.

Then, presto—every unit clicked and the Knicks had a 123-106 National Basketball Association victory over the Royals.

In other NBA action, Detroit edged Seattle 119-118 in the opening half of a doubleheader which also featured the Knicks-Royals at New York's Madison Square Garden, and Boston beat the Bulls 107-93 at Chicago.

"There's no team other than Boston or Philadelphia that is deeper than us," Reed said after the Knicks ran the Royals, hobbled by Oscar Robertson's injury and the lack of a big man to help Jerry Lucas, off the court.

The Knicks began clicking as soon as the second period started, running off 10 straight points to tie the game at 32-32. They led 88-83 after three periods and then clinched their sixth victory in 13 games when Walt Bellamy and Dick Barnett each hit for eight points to give them a 104-89 lead.

Detroit trailed for most of the game, took a 119-115 and then spent some anxious seconds.

Joe Strawder put Detroit ahead 117-115 with a foul shot. Eddie Miles then batted the ball from the hands of Seattle's Bob Rule and Detroit's Dave Bing picked it up. He was fouled in the backcourt and made both foul shots for a 119-115 Piston lead.

Walt Hazard then made it 119-117 with a Seattle basket, and with five seconds left Bob Weiss stole Detroit's inbounds pass, took a shot and was fouled. He made the first but missed the second, and the Pistons' Dave DeBusschere grabbed the rebound.

Bing led all scorers with 39 points. Hazard dumped in 33 and Rule 32 for Supersonics.

Boston fell behind 58-45 at intermission but roared back for its eighth victory in nine games as Sam Jones scored 18 points in the second half.

Ignore Detour

Fans going to the East Liverpool game at Alliance tonight are advised to ignore the detour signs on Route 62 going into Alliance. The detour is for a bridge out beyond the Mount Union stadium, where the game is being played. The stadium is visible from Route 62.

Junior High All-Stars Tie Canton

The East Liverpool Junior High all-stars concluded their season with a 6-6 tie with the Canton Junior High all-stars at Canton yesterday.

EL scored on a 45-yard pass from Joe March to Steve Williams in the first period and Canton tied the game in the third quarter. The EL juniors had an effective defense, led by linebacker Bob Deem and middle guard Jeff Michaels. The All-Stars ended 1-0-1, the best record in the seven years there has been a junior high all-star team in East Liverpool.

Wings Win With Edwards

Penguins Beaten By Reject

By The Associated Press

Roy Edwards has spent his first sleepless night as a National Hockey League goalie — haunting the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Edwards, a chronic winter insomniac for nine minor league seasons, made his NHL debut Thursday night in the Detroit Red Wings' cage and breezed past Pittsburgh 5-1.

Los Angeles' West Division leaders stunned Toronto's East Division front-runners 4-1 in the only other game on the schedule, snapping the Maple Leafs' unbeaten string at five.

Edwards' victory over the Penguins was doubly sweet for the 30-year-old journeyman, rescued from the minors by Detroit this week to replace shook-up Roger Crozier. Edwards was selected by Pittsburgh in the expansion draft last spring, only to be cut loose before the start of the season.

The Red Wings got him in a trade for goalie Hank Bassen, then farmed him out to Fort Worth of the Central League, where he registered four shutouts, a 1.33 goals-against average and an 8-0-1 record in nine games. He was promoted Tuesday after Crozier, strafed for 18 goals as the Wings lost three straight last week, abruptly quit the game and went home to Canada.

Edwards was beaten in the first period by Bill Speer's long screened shot on a Pittsburgh power play. He blanked the Penguins the rest of the way while goals by Floyd Smith, Ted Hampson, Dean Prentice, Doug Roberts and Norm Ullman lifted the Wings into a second place tie with New York in the East—two points behind the Maple Leafs.

Ed Joyal, a former Leaf, scored twice and rookie goalie Wayne Rutledge came up with 3 saves to pace Los Angeles to its third victory over an established NHL club. Brian Smith and defenseman Dale Rolfe also connected for the Kings, who now lead second-place Pittsburgh by five points in the West.

Simpson Back In Lineup As USC Faces Oregon St.

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The giants meet the giant killer Saturday and the giant's doctor says he will be at top strength for the test.

Top-ranked Southern California received the good news Thursday that running back O. J. Simpson, out of action last week with an injured foot, will be able to start against Oregon State.

The Trojans survived Simpson's absence last week and beat California, but Oregon State is another matter entirely. The Beavers beat Purdue earlier in the season when the Boilermakers were ranked second in the country and last week they tied UCLA, also No. 2 at the time.

Simpsons return makes Southern Cal Coach John McKay about the happiest man in Los Angeles. Already this season O.J. has gained 1,050 yards on 203 carries.

Also on the West Coast, fourth-ranked UCLA tuned up for Washington as Gary Beban completed 15 of 17 passes in a scrimmage Thursday. The Bruins are 6-0-1 while the Huskies are 5-3.

Second-ranked Tennessee, 5-1, meets Tulane, 3-4, and third-ranked North Carolina State, 8-0, has a tough opponent in Penn State, which is 5-2 and is riding a four-game winning streak.

Purdue, No. 5 with a 6-1 mark, is another team with a battle on its hands. The Boilermakers meet Minnesota, which is 6-1 and unbeaten in Big Ten play. The Gophers have won five straight.

Indiana, ranked sixth and unbeaten in seven games, faces another potential barrier to its Rose Bowl dreams, meeting Michigan State, which is dangerous despite its 2-5 mark.

Vaughn's 3-Pointers Pace Pipers

By The Associated Press

Some deadeye shooting by Connie Hawkins and Chico Vaughn snapped a three-game losing streak for the Pittsburgh Pipers in the American Basketball Association.

Hawkins, with 27 points, and Vaughn, with 22, combined for 49 points to lead the Pipers over the Minnesota Muskies at Pittsburgh Thursday night. The Muskies took a 12-point lead in the third period, but couldn't hold it when Hawkins and Vaughn cut loose.

Five of Vaughn's seven baskets were three-pointers from outside the 25-foot line. Hawkins got 10 field goals and made seven of seven free throws. Don Freeman topped the Muskies with 23 points.

The Oakland Oaks snapped a five-game losing streak by edging the Houston Mavericks 99-98 in the other ABA scheduled game. Houston had the ball for the last 22 seconds, but Dewitt Menyard's try for a winning basket in the closing seconds bounced off the rim.

Hoop Coach Sekeres Out At Western

John Dudo has been named head basketball coach at Western Beaver High School, replacing Dan Sekeres, who resigned earlier this week.

Dudo's appointment is conditional on approval by the school board, which next meets Dec. 4, but the appointment has been approved by the athletic committee of the board.

Dudo, from New Castle, graduated from Clarion State (Pa.) in 1964. He coached a year at Newton Falls, Ohio, in both basketball and football, and was the JV coach under Sekeres last season. Now living in Industry, Dudo had taken an appointment as the junior high coach at Western this season.

Sekeres, who is also the football coach at Western, a job not affected by the resignation, had been the basketball mentor the last two years.

Alan Six, halfback Bob Miller, fullback Harold Marshall, center Rich Gogol, ends Dan Crago, Earl Jackson and Dan Staley, tackle Glenn Greathouse and guard Rich Bryer.

Bruce Diddle, who played an excellent game against Southern Local, and Dave Doak are filling in at quarterback for Dennis Klembara, Beaver Local standout. Regulars in their last game for the Beavers are fullback Bill Bowersock, ends John Pugh, Sam Hall and Bill Cole, tackles Dave Humphrey and Mike McKenzie, guards Jim Burcham and Sam Ferguson and center Terry Dunn.

Columbiana, knocked from the unbeaten ranks a week ago by Lisbon, can salvage a tie for the Tri - County league title against the Bulldogs, 5-4. Senior standouts for the Clippers are tailback Bill Ward, fullback Dave Morris, quarterback Bill Gela and defensive end George Lynn. Bulldog aces who will bow out are quarterback Steve Morris, halfback Joe Thompson and end Jim Taucher.

Lisbon, 8-1, which has clinched a tie for the Tri - County League title with Minerva, plays United, 2-7, in a non-league game. Next year the Golden Eagles will join the Tri - County League, giving the loop eight teams again. There were only seven this year due to the departure of Louisville. United broke a four - game losing streak with the sound 31-8 trouncing of Southern Local last week. Tom Wood is the big ground - gainer for Ralph Pardee's club. Lisbon, flying high after beating Columbiana last week, is aiming for possible state recognition and a reversal of last year's 1-9 mark. Senior stickouts for the Blue Devils are fullback John Morgan, halfbacks Mike Rutecki and Gary Toot and guard Jim Morgan.

The game at Southern Local will start at 7:30. Dad's Night will be observed, and the fathers of the varsity players, cheerleaders and managers will be seated in a special section and introduced at halftime. The game will be the finale for Indian coach Ray (Beau) Bell, who is leaving the school to take a job in another field. There are few seniors on the Southern squad, with end Dennis McElroy possibly the best. Southern is 2-6 on the year and has lost its last four. Toronto is 6-3 and a win would give the Red Knights outright possession of the Buckeye Border Conference title. They are 3-0 in league play so far, Southern 1-2.

Stanton Local, 5-3, was surprised by Jefferson Union 30-8 last week. Fullback Elmer Tice and tackle-end Bill Koehnlein are the top seniors for the Red Raiders.

NY Knicks Use Depth To Wear Down Royals

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

So says Willis Reed.

And for a time Thursday night it looked like it was going to be another one of those hard times for Reed and the rest of the New York Knickerbockers.

The Knicks, considered by most observers to have more talent than they've had in many a year, looked something like a computer with its tape in backwards as they fell behind 32-22 to Cincinnati after one quarter.

Then, presto—every unit clicked and the Knicks had a 123-106 National Basketball Association victory over the Royals.

In other NBA action, Detroit edged Seattle 119-118 in the opening half of a doubleheader which also featured the Knicks-Royals at New York's Madison Square Garden, and Boston beat the Bulls 107-93 at Chicago.

"There's no team other than Boston or Philadelphia that is deeper than us," Reed said after the Knicks ran the Royals, hobbled by Oscar Robertson's injury and the lack of a big man to help Jerry Lucas, off the court.

The Knicks began clicking as soon as the second period started, running off 10 straight points to tie the game at 32-32. They led 88-83 after three periods and then clinched their sixth victory in 13 games when Walt Bellamy and Dick Barnett each hit for eight points to give them a 104-89 lead.

Detroit trailed for most of the game, took a 119-115 and then spent some anxious seconds.

Joe Strawder put Detroit ahead 117-115 with a foul shot. Eddie Miles then batted the ball from the hands of Seattle's Bob Rule and Detroit's Dave Bing picked it up. He was fouled in the backcourt and made both foul shots for a 119-115 Piston lead.

Walt Hazard then made it 119-117 with a Seattle basket, and with five seconds left Bob Weiss stole Detroit's inbounds pass, took a shot and was fouled. He made the first but missed the second, and the Pistons' Dave DeBusschere grabbed the rebound.

Bing led all scorers with 39 points. Hazard dumped in 33 and Rule 32 for Supersonics.

Boston fell behind 58-45 at intermission but roared back for its eighth victory in nine games as Sam Jones scored 18 points in the second half.

Ignore Detour

Fans going to the East Liverpool game at Alliance tonight are advised to ignore the detour signs on Route 62 going into Alliance. The detour is for a bridge out beyond the Mount Union stadium, where the game is being played. The stadium is visible from Route 62.

Junior High All-Stars Tie Canton

The East Liverpool Junior High all-stars concluded their season with a 6-6 tie with the Canton Junior High all-stars at Canton yesterday.

EL scored on a 45-yard pass from Joe March to Steve Williams in the first period and Canton tied the game in the third quarter. The EL juniors had an effective defense, led by linebacker Bob Deem and middle guard Jeff Michaels. The All-Stars ended 1-0-1, the best record in the seven years there has been a junior high all-star team in East Liverpool.

Wings Win With Edwards

Penguins Beaten By Reject

By The Associated Press

Roy Edwards has spent his first sleepless night as a National Hockey League goalie — haunting the Pittsburgh Penguins.

Edwards, a chronic winter insomniac for nine minor league seasons, made his NHL debut Thursday night in the Detroit Red Wings' cage and breezed past Pittsburgh 5-1.

Los Angeles' West Division leaders stunned Toronto's East Division front-runners 4-1 in the only other game on the schedule, snapping the Maple Leafs' unbeaten string at five.

Edwards' victory over the Penguins was doubly sweet for the 30-year-old journeyman, rescued from the minors by Detroit this week to replace shook-up Roger Crozier. Edwards was selected by Pittsburgh in the expansion draft last spring, only to be cut loose before the start of the season.

The Red Wings got him in a trade for goalie Hank Bassen, then farmed him out to Fort Worth of the Central League, where he registered four shutouts, a 1.33 goals-against average and an 8-0-1 record in nine games. He was promoted Tuesday after Crozier, strafed for 18 goals as the Wings lost three straight last week, abruptly quit the game and went home to Canada.

Edwards was beaten in the first period by Bill Speer's long screened shot on a Pittsburgh power play. He blanked the Penguins the rest of the way while goals by Floyd Smith, Ted Hampson, Dean Prentice, Doug Roberts and Norm Ullman lifted the Wings into a second place tie with New York in the East—two points behind the Maple Leafs.

Ed Joyal, a former Leaf, scored twice and rookie goalie Wayne Rutledge came up with 3 saves to pace Los Angeles to its third victory over an established NHL club. Brian Smith and defenseman Dale Rolfe also connected for the Kings, who now lead second-place Pittsburgh by five points in the West.

Simpson Back In Lineup As USC Faces Oregon St.

By RON RAPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The giants meet the giant killer Saturday and the giant's doctor says he will be at top strength for the test.

Top-ranked Southern California received the good news Thursday that running back O. J. Simpson, out of action last week with an injured foot, will be able to start against Oregon State.

The Trojans survived Simpson's absence last week and beat California, but Oregon State is another matter entirely. The Beavers beat Purdue earlier in the season when the Boilermakers were ranked second in the country and last week they tied UCLA, also No. 2 at the time.

Simpsons return makes Southern Cal Coach John McKay about the happiest man in Los Angeles. Already this season O.J. has gained 1,050 yards on 203 carries.

Also on the West Coast, fourth-ranked UCLA tuned up for Washington as Gary Beban completed 15 of 17 passes in a scrimmage Thursday. The Bruins are 6-0-1 while the Huskies are 5-3.

Second-ranked Tennessee, 5-1, meets Tulane, 3-4, and third-ranked North Carolina State, 8-0, has a tough opponent in Penn State, which is 5-2 and is riding a four-game winning streak.

Purdue, No. 5 with a 6-1 mark, is another team with a battle on its hands. The Boilermakers meet Minnesota, which is 6-1 and unbeaten in Big Ten play. The Gophers have won five straight.

Indiana, ranked sixth and unbeaten in seven games, faces another potential barrier to its Rose Bowl dreams, meeting Michigan State, which is dangerous despite its 2-5 mark.

Vaughn's 3-Pointers Pace Pipers

By The Associated Press

Some deadeye shooting by Connie Hawkins and Chico Vaughn snapped a three-game losing streak for the Pittsburgh Pipers in the American Basketball Association.

Hawkins, with 27 points, and Vaughn, with 22, combined for 49 points to lead the Pipers over the Minnesota Muskies at Pittsburgh Thursday night. The Muskies took a 12-point lead in the third period, but couldn't hold it when Hawkins and Vaughn cut loose.

Five of Vaughn's seven baskets were three-pointers from outside the 25-foot line. Hawkins got 10 field goals and made seven of seven free throws. Don Freeman topped the Muskies with 23 points.

The Oakland Oaks snapped a five-game losing streak by edging the Houston Mavericks 99-98 in the other ABA scheduled game. Houston had the ball for the last 22 seconds, but Dewitt Menyard's try for a winning basket in the closing seconds bounced off the rim.

Hoop Coach Sekeres Out At Western

John Dudo has been named head basketball coach at Western Beaver High School, replacing Dan Sekeres, who resigned earlier this week.

Dudo's appointment is conditional on approval by the school board, which next meets Dec. 4, but the appointment has been approved by the athletic committee of the board.

Dudo, from New Castle, graduated from Clarion State (Pa.) in 1964. He coached a year at Newton Falls, Ohio, in both basketball and football, and was the JV coach under Sekeres last season. Now living in Industry, Dudo had taken an appointment as the junior high coach at Western this season.

Sekeres, who is also the football coach at Western, a job not affected by the resignation, had been the basketball mentor the last two years.

Packers, Cards Selected Over Browns, Steelers

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New Orleans' upset of the heavily favored Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday and the flu bug combined to knock out Jack Hand, the regular operator of this weekly guessing game. While Hand is recuperating and resting on a 56-20-7 record, we borrowed his play books and miniature computer.

But you need more help than that in trying to figure out the big game of the week—Green Bay vs. Cleveland—for both the National and American football leagues Sunday.

Baltimore finally caught up to Green Bay after losing to the Packers five straight, and now the Browns have the same chance against the Packers at Milwaukee. It's going to be very close but we don't think the Browns are going to make it.

Here's how we see the Sunday program:

NFL

Green Bay 17, Cleveland 14—The Packers, leaders in the Central Division with 5-2-1, will have Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson as their running backs in place of injured regulars Elijah Pitts and Jim Grabowski. But Vince Lombardi has Bart Starr at quarterback as well as the NFL's No. 1 team in total defense and pass defense. The Browns, 5-3, tied with St. Louis for first in the Century Division, have a battered quarterback in Frank Ryan but a terrific 1-2 running punch in Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green. This match-up will be seen on television in most parts of the country. Starting time is 4 p.m., EST.

Baltimore 35, Atlanta 7—The Colts, 6-0-2, the only unbeaten team in the NFL and just a game in front of Los Angeles in the Coastal Division, beat the Falcons, 1-6-1, 38-31, in their opener after holding a 31-7 lead at the half. Johnny Unitas and Co. won't let down this time at Atlanta.

Dallas 28, New Orleans 14—The Cowboys, 6-2, leaders of the Capitol Division, should break the Saints' one-game winning streak at New Orleans, Dallas beat the Saints, now 1-7, in the main and without Don Meredith in Dallas, 14-10. This time the Cowboys have Meredith at the throttle.

St. Louis 31, Pittsburgh 7—The Cardinals, 5-3 have Jim Bakken, the league's top scorer, to throw a fright into the Steelers, 2-6, at St. Louis. Bakken kicked a record seven field goals in nine attempts in a 28-14 win over the Steelers at Pittsburgh on Sept. 24.

Los Angeles 35, Philadelphia 7—The erratic Eagles, upset 31-24 by New Orleans last week, are hurting badly with tackle Bob Brown, tight end Mike Ditka and defensive back Ron Medved out. L.A. is 5-1-2 and Philadelphia 4-4.

Chicago 28, New York 24—The Giants, 4-4, have been hurt badly on kickoff returns. The Bears, 3-5, have the NFL's best kickoff returner in Gale Sayers.

San Francisco 28, Washington 14—The 49ers, 5-3, have lost their last two games while the Skins, 2-4-2, haven't won in their last five (two ties, three losses). Washington probably regains linebacker Sam Huff from the injury list but it won't be enough even on the homefield.

Minnesota 17, Detroit 7—An upset for the rebounding Vikings, 25-1, over the tough Lions, 3-4-1, at Minnesota. The Vikings' fine rookies are coming along fast.

AFL

New York 28, Buffalo 24—The Bills, 3-5, have beaten the Jets, 5-2-1, in their last four meetings. Although the Jets have lost running back Emerson Boozer, they may get Matt Snell back.

Houston 14, Denver 10—The Oilers, 4-3-1, are still trying to mesh their attack but should just have enough over the Broncos, 1-8, at Denver. Denver has lost eight straight.

San Diego 35, Miami 7—The Dolphins, 1-6, have lost six straight. Quarterback Bob Griese is improving but the Chargers, 5-11, rested after a week off, have too many guns.

Kansas City 14, Boston 10—The Chiefs, 5-3, with Mike Garrett rolling up 192 yards, whipped the Jets 42-18 last week while the Patriots 3-5-1, beat Houston, 18-7. This one's at Boston but the Chiefs, with 94 points in their last two games, are on the warpath.

Oakland, leading the Western Division with a 7-1 record, has a bye this week.

Palmer, U.S. Lead In World Cup Golf

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, fighting to keep the World Cup golf team championship for the United States, held a one-point lead over Argentina today as the second round started and 80 golfers sharpened to the course.

Palmer, who said the greens seemed to have gotten faster overnight, made most putts count as he came out of the first nine two-under par, shaved off two more strokes on the back nine, and finished with a 68 that tied him with Argentina's Florentino Molina for low individual score.

South Africa's Gary Player carded a 69 on the strength of his putting. He finished with a flourish, sinking a 30-foot putt on the 17th and a 10-footer on the 18th for two birdies.

Palmer and Nicklaus, who are defending the team title they won last year in Tokyo, played three holes in the rain, which caught Player and teammate Harold Henning on the 18th.

"Harold finished with a 74," Player said Thursday, "'but he had some impossible shots. He didn't play that badly, more like a 71."

In at 70 were Canada's Al Balding, Spain's Ramon Sota, and Jose Maria Gonzalez of Brazil. George Knudson of Canada, defending his individual championship won at Tokyo, shot a 73, but his teammate said later, "George will be the individual star before this thing is over."

Balding said he believed the altitude was affecting him, as did Palmer. "I've never felt so shaky," said Balding.

Palmer said that in the pro-am tourney Wednesday the altitude affected him so much he couldn't drive. "But I felt much better today," Palmer said.

The 7,250-yard course demands exacting placement of shots, and all golfers here who talk about the greens summed them up in one word: "Difficult."

Trailing the U.S. and Argentina in team standings as the second round started were Canada, South Africa, and the Belgian team of Donald Swaelens and Flory Van Donck, all at 143.

Baughan Ready For Old Mates

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linebacker Maxie Baughan of the Los Angeles Rams has special reasons for a big day against the Philadelphia Eagles here Sunday.

"I've been waiting for this chance ever since I joined the Rams two years ago," he says. "I spent six years with the Eagles. I feel like I did at Georgia Tech before our annual homecoming game.

"I don't suppose I'll play any harder—I always play as hard as I can—but I sure want to make a good showing."

Baughan doesn't go into details but it is a fact that he asked the Eagles to trade him. Coach George Allen landed him for the Rams.

Baughan has great respect for the Eagles' quarterback, Norm Snead. He has the size of the Rams' Roman Gabriel, can fight off the rush and statistically, he's the No. 2 quarterback in the National Football League.

"We seem to catch a hot passer every week now," Maxie observed.

Lady Potters Set Date For Banquet

The Lady Potters Booster Club Wednesday night set the date of its annual football banquet for Nov. 21 at 6:30 at the Holiday Inn by Waterford Park.

Tickets, priced at $5, will be sold at the next meeting of the club, Nov. 13 at 8 p.m. at the YMCA. All reservations must be made by then. The banquet is not open to the public. There will be a white elephant sale after the meeting Monday.

'Lonely End' Gets Medal In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Army Capt. William S. Carpenter Jr. received the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for bravery in combat in a ceremony Thursday at Schofield Barracks.

The 29-year-old former Army football star was cited for bravery for calling down a napalm barrage on his own position which was under attack June 10 last year in South Vietnam.

The napalm bombs hit the top of the trees in the center of the company's position and exploded above ground. The fiery napalm carried directly into the charging Communist troops and bypassed most of the Americans, forcing the enemy to withdraw.

Graham Files Protest Against Green Bay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington Redskins' Coach Otto Graham said Wednesday he has filed a formal protest over the signing of taxi squad fullback Chuck Mercein by the Green Bay Packers.

Graham accused Packers' Coach Vince Lombardi of breaking his word not to sign Mercein if the Redskins had plans to use him. The Washington coach said Mercein might have been activated this week.

"Lombardi did not wait to see about our plans for Mercein. He went ahead and did it. He did not keep his word," Graham charged Wednesday.

Packers, Cards Selected Over Browns, Steelers

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New Orleans' upset of the heavily favored Philadelphia Eagles last Sunday and the flu bug combined to knock out Jack Hand, the regular operator of this weekly guessing game. While Hand is recuperating and resting on a 56-20-7 record, we borrowed his play books and miniature computer.

But you need more help than that in trying to figure out the big game of the week—Green Bay vs. Cleveland—for both the National and American football leagues Sunday.

Baltimore finally caught up to Green Bay after losing to the Packers five straight, and now the Browns have the same chance against the Packers at Milwaukee. It's going to be very close but we don't think the Browns are going to make it.

Here's how we see the Sunday program:

NFL

Green Bay 17, Cleveland 14—The Packers, leaders in the Central Division with 5-2-1, will have Donny Anderson and Ben Wilson as their running backs in place of injured regulars Elijah Pitts and Jim Grabowski. But Vince Lombardi has Bart Starr at quarterback as well as the NFL's No. 1 team in total defense and pass defense. The Browns, 5-3, tied with St. Louis for first in the Century Division, have a battered quarterback in Frank Ryan but a terrific 1-2 running punch in Leroy Kelly and Ernie Green. This match-up will be seen on television in most parts of the country. Starting time is 4 p.m., EST.

Baltimore 35, Atlanta 7—The Colts, 6-0-2, the only unbeaten team in the NFL and just a game in front of Los Angeles in the Coastal Division, beat the Falcons, 1-6-1, 38-31, in their opener after holding a 31-7 lead at the half. Johnny Unitas and Co. won't let down this time at Atlanta.

Dallas 28, New Orleans 14—The Cowboys, 6-2, leaders of the Capitol Division, should break the Saints' one-game winning streak at New Orleans, Dallas beat the Saints, now 1-7, in the main and without Don Meredith in Dallas, 14-10. This time the Cowboys have Meredith at the throttle.

St. Louis 31, Pittsburgh 7—The Cardinals, 5-3 have Jim Bakken, the league's top scorer, to throw a fright into the Steelers, 2-6, at St. Louis. Bakken kicked a record seven field goals in nine attempts in a 28-14 win over the Steelers at Pittsburgh on Sept. 24.

Los Angeles 35, Philadelphia 7—The erratic Eagles, upset 31-24 by New Orleans last week, are hurting badly with tackle Bob Brown, tight end Mike Ditka and defensive back Ron Medved out. L.A. is 5-1-2 and Philadelphia 4-4.

Chicago 28, New York 24—The Giants, 4-4, have been hurt badly on kickoff returns. The Bears, 3-5, have the NFL's best kickoff returner in Gale Sayers.

San Francisco 28, Washington 14—The 49ers, 5-3, have lost their last two games while the Skins, 2-4-2, haven't won in their last five (two ties, three losses). Washington probably regains linebacker Sam Huff from the injury list but it won't be enough even on the homefield.

Minnesota 17, Detroit 7—An upset for the rebounding Vikings, 25-1, over the tough Lions, 3-4-1, at Minnesota. The Vikings' fine rookies are coming along fast.

AFL

New York 28, Buffalo 24—The Bills, 3-5, have beaten the Jets, 5-2-1, in their last four meetings. Although the Jets have lost running back Emerson Boozer, they may get Matt Snell back.

Houston 14, Denver 10—The Oilers, 4-3-1, are still trying to mesh their attack but should just have enough over the Broncos, 1-8, at Denver. Denver has lost eight straight.

San Diego 35, Miami 7—The Dolphins, 1-6, have lost six straight. Quarterback Bob Griese is improving but the Chargers, 5-11, rested after a week off, have too many guns.

Kansas City 14, Boston 10—The Chiefs, 5-3, with Mike Garrett rolling up 192 yards, whipped the Jets 42-18 last week while the Patriots 3-5-1, beat Houston, 18-7. This one's at Boston but the Chiefs, with 94 points in their last two games, are on the warpath.

Oakland, leading the Western Division with a 7-1 record, has a bye this week.

Little League Football

The Tri-State Football Little League will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. at the Ohio Valley Gas Co. office on Sixth St. President Martin Christian will conduct the meeting.

Sunday's game schedule, with the Pee Wee games at 1:30 and the Big Team games at 2:30:

Glenmoor vs. Dixonville at Beaver Local
East End at Chester
St. Al's vs. North Side at Bell Field, Little England
Calcutta at Stanton Local

Palmer, U.S. Lead In World Cup Golf

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus, fighting to keep the World Cup golf team championship for the United States, held a one-point lead over Argentina today as the second round started and 80 golfers sharpened to the course.

Palmer, who said the greens seemed to have gotten faster overnight, made most putts count as he came out of the first nine two-under par, shaved off two more strokes on the back nine, and finished with a 68 that tied him with Argentina's Florentino Molina for low individual score.

Nicklaus fired a steady 72 to give Palmer the backing he needed. Molina's teammate, Fidel de Luca, came in at 73.

South Africa's Gary Player carded a 69 on the strength of his putting. He finished with a flourish, sinking a 30-foot putt on the 17th and a 10-footer on the 18th for two birdies.

Palmer and Nicklaus, who are defending the team title they won last year in Tokyo, played three holes in the rain, which caught Player and teammate Harold Henning on the 18th.

"Harold finished with a 74," Player said Thursday, "but he had some impossible shots. He didn't play that badly, more like a 71."

In at 70 were Canada's Al Balding, Spain's Ramon Sota, and Jose Maria Gonzalez of Brazil. George Knudson of Canada, defending his individual championship won at Tokyo, shot a 73, but his teammate said later, "George will be the individual star before this thing is over."

Balding said he believed the altitude was affecting him, as did Palmer. "I've never felt so shaky," said Balding.

Palmer said that in the pro-am tourney Wednesday the altitude affected him so much he couldn't drive. "But I felt much better today," Palmer said.

The 7,250-yard course demands exacting placement of shots, and all golfers here who talk about the greens summed them up in one word: "Difficult."

Trailing the U.S. and Argentina in team standings as the second round started were Canada, South Africa, and the Belgian team of Donald Swaelens and Flory Van Donck, all at 143.

Baughan Ready For Old Mates

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Linebacker Maxie Baughan of the Los Angeles Rams has special reasons for a big day against the Philadelphia Eagles here Sunday.

"I've been waiting for this chance ever since I joined the Rams two years ago," he says. "I spent six years with the Eagles. I feel like I did at Georgia Tech before our annual homecoming game.

"I don't suppose I'll play any harder—I always play as hard as I can—but I sure want to make a good showing."

Baughan doesn't go into details but it is a fact that he asked the Eagles to trade him. Coach George Allen landed him for the Rams.

Baughan has great respect for the Eagles' quarterback, Norm Snead. He has the size of the Rams' Roman Gabriel, can fight off the rush and statistically, he's the No. 2 quarterback in the National Football League.

"We seem to catch a hot passer every week now," Maxie observed.

Lady Potters Set Date For Banquet

The Lady Potters Booster Club Wednesday night set the date of its annual football banquet for Nov. 21 at 6:30 at the Holiday Inn by Waterford Park.

Tickets, priced at $5, will be sold at the next meeting of the club, Nov. 13 at 8 p.m. at the YMCA. All reservations must be made by then. The banquet is not open to the public. There will be a white elephant sale after the meeting Monday.

'Lonely End' Gets Medal In Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — Army Capt. William S. Carpenter Jr. received the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for bravery in combat in a ceremony Thursday at Schofield Barracks.

The 29-year-old former Army football star was cited for bravery for calling down a napalm barrage on his own position which was under attack June 10 last year in South Vietnam.

The napalm bombs hit the top of the trees in the center of the company's position and exploded above ground. The fiery napalm carried directly into the charging Communist troops and bypassed most of the Americans, forcing the enemy to withdraw.

Graham Files Protest Against Green Bay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington Redskins' Coach Otto Graham said Wednesday he has filed a formal protest over the signing of taxi squad fullback Chuck Mercein by the Green Bay Packers.

Graham accused Packers' Coach Vince Lombardi of breaking his word not to sign Mercein if the Redskins had plans to use him. The Washington coach said Mercein might have been activated this week.

"Lombardi did not wait to see about our plans for Mercein. He went ahead and did it. He did not keep his word," Graham charged Wednesday.

Nuns Worry Over TV Portrayal

Three nuns from St. Finbar Convent in Burbank, Calif., dutifully have been watching "The Flying Nun" on TV for me, so I could get their reaction to it. All three teach in the same elementary school.

Hal Humphrey

Sister Eugenia has decided the TV series is only contributing to an image which she and all nuns resent — namely, that nuns are "sweet, stupid little things."

"I think they should show nuns to be a little more sophisticated," opines Sister Eugenia. "I realize Sister Bertrille is very young, but I can't believe she is as naive as they sometimes portray her in 'The Flying Nun'."

SISTER CECILE agrees with Sister Eugenia and believes the series should not be on the air because it strengthens the prejudices already prevalent, and, therefore, is doing some harm.

"Of course, I know we are partly to blame because of our ridiculous outfits, but we're finally doing something about them now since Pope John," Sister Cecile adds.

"THE STEREOTYPE presented as the mother superior (Madeleine Sherwood) in "The Flying Nun" also disturbs Sister Eugenia. She is so cold and so stern, says Sister Eugenia, that she is not human at all.

"That kind of portrayal is like the minstrel show type of Negro and just as unreal," Sister Eugenia objects.

"Sister Colleen, who is the youngest of this trio, refuses to take "The Flying Nun" series as seriously as her two cohorts, but says quite frankly that, like them, she doubts if she ever would watch the show had I not put them up to it.

"I THINK we should be able to laugh at ourselves," she says. "At least the producers have got away from making us just a symbolism, like Ingrid Bergman in the movie, 'Bells of St. Mary's.'

"Now we play baseball and ride bicycles in their stories. There isn't any spiritual element in 'The Flying Nun,' however, which I miss. I did like the one episode in which the other nuns thought Sister Bertrille was dying until it was discovered she was only to be transferred. That one had a real message.

"I say, let it go on, because even with its stereotypes it might at least be a basis among some viewers for discussion and maybe finding out more about real nuns. There's always the chance it might eliminate some of the awe that the lay public has for us, too. If some viewers take it all too seriously, well, that's too bad."

COLLEEN also pointed out the interesting fact that the children in her class never connect the nuns they see on TV with those in school, simply because they know the ones in school and know the difference.

The more I discussed "The Flying Nun" with these three real-life nuns, the more it reminded me of conversations with Negroes who were hurt over the portrayals in Amos 'n' Andy, or with Jews who saw harm in heavy dialect Yiddish comedy, or even with newspapermen who never get over how comily we are reproduced in movies and TV.

As Sister Eugenia concludes, of course, the producers of "The Flying Nun" never had any intention of portraying real life, as is witnessed by the fact that the high winds in St. Thomas pick up Sister Bertrille and allow her to fly like a bird.

WHAT IS MISSING, though, is much real humor like that abounding among the nuns at St. Finbar, for example. If the producers and writers would take the time and trouble to research life among real nuns and mix it into their own formula, they'd have better shows.

"If only everyone looking at 'The Flying Nun' would take it as a joke," comments Sister Colleen.

"Ah, yes," says Sister Eugenia, "but how about people like the mother who came up to me recently and said, 'Sister, you've no idea what's happening in the world today.' She's probably watching 'The Flying Nun,' too."

Union Slates Prelude To Wage Conference

Conferees of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will head for Cincinnati over the weekend for caucus sessions that will be a prelude to bargaining on a new contract for the generalware industry with spokesmen for the U. S. Potters Association.

The IBOP conferees are scheduled to caucus Monday and Tuesday at the Netherland Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati. The first meeting with the manufacturers is set Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the nearby Terrace Hilton Hotel.

The IBOP delegation is scheduled to arrive at the Netherland Hilton Sunday night. Joseph M. Wells Jr. and John T. Hall, co-chairman of the labor committee, will head the USPA negotiators.

As Sister Eugenia concludes, of course, the producers of "The Flying Nun" never had any intention of portraying real life, as is witnessed by the fact that the high winds in St. Thomas pick up Sister Bertrille and allow her to fly like a bird.

WHAT IS MISSING, though, is much real humor like that abounding among the nuns at St. Finbar, for example. If the producers and writers would take the time and trouble to research life among real nuns and mix it into their own formula, they'd have better shows.

"Ah, yes," says Sister Eugenia, "but how about people like the mother who came up to me recently and said, 'Sister, you've no idea what's happening in the world today.' She's probably watching 'The Flying Nun,' too."

Union Slates Prelude To Wage Conference

Conferees of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters will head for Cincinnati over the weekend for caucus sessions that will be a prelude to bargaining on a new contract for the generalware industry with spokesmen for the U. S. Potters Association.

The IBOP conferees are scheduled to caucus Monday and Tuesday at the Netherland Hilton Hotel in Cincinnati. The first meeting with the manufacturers is set Wednesday afternoon at 2 at the nearby Terrace Hilton Hotel.

The IBOP delegation is scheduled to arrive at the Netherland Hilton Sunday night. Joseph M. Wells Jr. and John T. Hall, co-chairman of the labor committee, will head the USPA negotiators.

Nixon Takes 'Soundings' In Ohio Visit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former vice president Richard M. Nixon took some political soundings in Ohio Thursday while the favorite son was away.

He visited Columbus briefly Thursday and had dinner and met with several prominent Republicans, including aides of Gov. James A. Rhodes, who is in South America on an Ohio trade mission. The subject of the talks was not revealed.

Preston Wolfe, publisher of the Columbus Dispatch, was host at the dinner. Those attending also included State GOP Chairman John Andrews, State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach, and John M. McElroy, Rhodes' executive assitant.

Nixon's visit was not announced to news media, but he was spotted on the street and consented to brief sidewalk interviews.

When questioned about his thoughts on again seeking his party's presidential nomination, he said, "I reserve the right to look over the situation very carefully before making a decision. . . I'll announce my decision in the latter part of January."

However, he also said, "I won't campaign in the primaries in any state in which there are favorite sons. And this would have to include Ohio."

Rhodes is expected to go to the 1968 Republican National Convention as the Ohio favorite son, as he did to the 1964 convention. But he has repeatedly said he won't seek a spot on the national ticket.

The familiar Dutch elm disease is so named because it was first studied and identified by Dutch plant pathologists. A fungus spread by bark beetles, Dutch elm disease broke out in Holland, France, and Belgium in 1919, causing widespread damage to elm trees. It reached the U. S. in 1930, and has since been a damaging foe of all elm - tree owners.

Arthur J. Carman, whose address is unknown but whose last known place of residence was R. D. 1, Minerva, Ohio, will take notice that the Plaintiff, Betty Lee Carman, has filed a Petition in the Court of Common Pleas, Columbiana County, Ohio, being Case No. 52493 praying for a divorce from said Defendant, custody of the minor children, support, permanent alimony, attorney fees, divesture of Defendant's interest in the personal and real property of the parties and equitable relief on the grounds of gross neglect of duty, extreme cruelty and willful absence for a period of more than one year.

It is alleged in said Petition that the Plaintiff is the owner of the following described real estate:

Known as and being a part of the northwest quarter of Section No. 13, Township No. 16, Range No. 6, Brown Township, Carroll County, Ohio.

Beginning at an iron pin at the intersection of the south line of the northwest quarter of section No. 13 with the center of County Road No. 15, thence north 84° 14' 45" west along the quarter section line 250.47 feet to an iron pin; thence north 5° 28' East 508.93 feet to an iron pin; thence north 64° 39' 20" east 350.82 feet to an an iron pin in the center of County Road No. 15; thence south 29° 16' 45" west along the center of said road 287.10 feet to a point; thence south 15° 02' 45" west along the center of said road 198.66 feet to a point; thence south 17° 43' 05" along the center of said road 249.23 feet to an iron pin on the quarter section line and the place of beginning, containing 2.661 acres more or less. Deed Reference: Carroll County, Ohio, Deed Records, Volume 134, Page 196.

Said Defendant, Arthur J. Carman, is hereby notified that said cause will be for hearing on the 1st day of December, 1967, at 10:00 A.M. or as soon therafter as the Court may conveniently hear the same.

No. 52191

In pursuance of an Order of Sale On Petition for Foreclosure of Unredeemed Delinquent Land Tax Certificate in the above entitled action, I will offer for sale at public auction, at the door of the Court House in Lisbon, Ohio, in the above named County, on Tuesday, the 12th day of December 1967, at 1:00 o'clock P.M. E.S.T., the following described real estate, situate in the County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and in the Township of Washington to-wit:

57.41 Acres minerals in SW ¼ Section 35, Township 13, Range 3, Valuation $660.00.

Situated in Columbiana County and State of Ohio, to wit: Being all the Stone Coal and other minerals in and underlying premises situated in the Township of Washington, County of Columbiana and State of Ohio, and known as and being part of the southwest quarter of Section 35, bounded, and described as follows: Beginning at the southwest corner of said section, thence north with the section line 31.90 chains to the half section line; thence east with the half section line 20.15 chains; thence south 32.30 chains to the south section line; thence west with the south section line 20.24 chains to the place of beginning, and being all the coal and other minerals underlying 64.81 acres of land, be the same more or less, excepting however, from said tract of 64.81 acres as aforesaid, the coal and other minerals underlying the tract of land described in a deed from John DeSellem and wife to Devina M. DeSellem dated October 29, 1915, and recorded in Volume 389, Page 20 of the records of Columbiana County, and bounded and described as follows: Being a part of the southwest quarter of section thirty - five (35) and beginning at a stake on the west section line, eight chains south of the northwest corner of said quarter section, thence with said section line north eight (8) chains to the northwest corner of said quarter section; thence east with said quarter section line 18.50 chains to a stake; thence in a southwest direction 20.25 chains to the place of beginning, containing 7.40 acres of land, be the same more or less.

Reserving, however from the above described premises, the coal and other minerals in and underlying one acre of land on which the farm buildings of said grantor are located.

Subject to an oil and gas lease to the Carter Oil Company dated November 10, 1908, and recorded December 3, 1908, in Volume 12, Page 411, Columbiana County Lease Records.

Said Premises Located at North of State Route No. 39; East of Township Road No. 773 and South of Township Road No. 877, R.D. No. 1, Salineville, Ohio.

Nixon Takes 'Soundings' In Ohio Visit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Former vice president Richard M. Nixon took some political soundings in Ohio Thursday while the favorite son was away.

He visited Columbus briefly Thursday and had dinner and met with several prominent Republicans, including aides of Gov. James A. Rhodes, who is in South America on an Ohio trade mission. The subject of the talks was not revealed.

Preston Wolfe, publisher of the Columbus Dispatch, was host at the dinner. Those attending also included State GOP Chairman John Andrews, State Finance Director Richard L. Krabach, and John M. McElroy, Rhodes' executive assistant.

Nixon's visit was not announced to news media, but he was spotted on the street and consented to brief sidewalk interviews.

When questioned about his thoughts on again seeking his party's presidential nomination, he said, "I reserve the right to look over the situation very carefully before making a decision. . . I'll announce my decision in the latter part of January."

However, he also said, "I won't campaign in the primaries in any state in which there are favorite sons. And this would have to include Ohio."

Rhodes is expected to go to the 1968 Republican National Convention as the Ohio favorite son, as he did to the 1964 convention. But he has repeatedly said he won't seek a spot on the national ticket.

The familiar Dutch elm disease is so named because it was first studied and identified by Dutch plant pathologists. A fungus spread by bark beetles, Dutch elm disease broke out in Holland, France, and Belgium in 1919, causing widespread damage to elm trees. It reached the U. S. in 1930, and has since been a damaging foe of all elm - tree owners.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Friday, Nov. 10, the 314th day of 1967. There are 51 days left in the year.

On this date in 1483, the leader of the Protestant Reformation, Martin Luther, was born.

On this date:

In 1674, the Dutch surrendered New Netherlands to the English.

In 1918, at the end of World War I, Kaiser Wilhelm II crossed from Belgium into Holland and asked for asylum.

In 1962, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt was buried beside her husband at Hyde Park, N.Y.

Ten years ago: The World Bank said it would consider helping to finance the Aswan High Dam if Egypt settled its dispute with the Suez Canal Co.

The Detroit Tigers have drawn more than one million fans to Tiger Stadium for the last 24 baseball seasons. The 1967 figure of 1,455,614 was the highest since 1961 and the second highest since the record of 1950.

QUESTION: Why was the dove chosen as the symbol of peace?

ANSWER: The Bible tells us in Genesis 6 that God was angry at man's wickedness and decided to destroy mankind, except for righteous Noah and his family. God directed Noah to build an ark, which floated while it rained for forty days and forty nights. (1) Finally the ark came to rest on Mount Ararat and Noah sent out a raven and then a dove to locate dry land. The birds returned with no clues. After seven days, Noah sent out the dove again; she returned (2) bearing an olive leaf so Noah knew the deluge was over. As a result of this touching story, the dove became known as the bearer of good tidings. Peace, is considered by most of mankind as the greatest good tiding; therefore it was natural that the dove came to symbolize peace. The gentleness and beauty of this bird, really a small pigeon, have added to the symbolism over the years. Our artist has drawn a dove of peace based on the center of a new U.S. stamp.

Fire Marshal's Regulation Hit In WVU's Case

CHARLESTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. C. Donald Robertson has declared "void and without effect" a regulation under which the state fire marshal ordered the evacuation of 15 fraternity and sorority houses at West Virginia University.

Fire Marshal Lewis E. Myles had ordered the evacuation Oct. 20 because the fraternity and sorority houses on the Morgantown campus did not comply with fire exit and fire escape requirements.

Robertson noted a "great many" of the fire marshal's regulations on file in the secretary of state's office were adopted by reference to some other body of regulations, without spelling out their content.

The regulation used in the evacuation order, said Robertson, simply referred to a pamphlet of the National Fire Protection Assn., and "thus has no legal effect and force."

Even if the regulation was enforceable, said Robertson, the evacuation order was invalid because the fire marshal failed to give the affected property owners "proper notice and a hearing."

He also suggested that the university conduct its own investigation of the problem and report the WVU board of governors "independent of any actions or directives of the state fire marshal."

Motorist Blames Fog After Auto Rams Pole

Dense fog was blamed for a mishap in which a 27-year-old man's auto rammed a utility pole on North Side at 4:53 this morning, police said.

David Randolph, of 1608 Alpha St. escaped injury when his northbound 1958 sedan struck the pole on St. Clair Ave. 50 feet north of Avondale St. The front of the car was damaged heavily.

Randolph told police he "couldn't see anything" in the dense fog and "the next thing I knew, I hit the pole." Patrolmen James Buckley and L. E. Richard investigated.
